WE NOMINATE

Paul Ezekiel Paddock Jr., retired U.S. Foreign Service Officer and for over two decades a worker and observer in underdeveloped, hungry nations on all continents, who is co-author with his younger brother of one of the spring's most startling books — "Famine 1975!" It is the Paddocks' thesis in a carefully documented work, which one observer feels may have the impact of Rachel Carson's "Silent Spring," that the year 1975 will mark the beginning of a New Age, the age of widespread and disastrous famines, an age when the possession of food rather than atomic weapons will determine the importance and fate of nations.

The brothers Paddock, whose first collaboration produced the well-received "Hungry Nations," originally planned to deal primarily with the problems of foreign aid. As they dug deeper and deeper into their subject, Paul as a highly knowledgeable diplomat and William as an internationally known agronomist, realized that the basic issue was the "lack of resources in the undeveloped countries themselves." They concluded: "A swelling population is blotting up the earth's food. United States surpluses are virtually exhausted; birth control programs are failing; our technology will be unable to increase food production in time to avert the death of tens of millions of people by starvation."

Over the course of some 30 months, including several consultations in Honduras, the brothers painstakingly assembled their data, built a three-part literary framework and worked so closely together that they even eliminated the editorial "we." In their preface they point out "we" becomes awkward when the illustrations out of personal experience obviously demand the forthright "I." "So, disregarding the confusion that arises from using the first person singular in events happening on different hemispheres in the same time period, read them as they come. 'I' can mean either one of us."

The 59-year old Paddock's 21 years (1937-1959) in the Foreign Service provided a splendid background for this provocative, and at times terrifying, volume. Early in World War II he was Vice Consul in Djakarta when the Japanese invaded Java. He was subsequently Vice Consul in Casablanca following the American landing, Second Secretary in Moscow during the last year of the war, Consul in Dairen, Manchuria, when the Communists invaded, and First Secretary in the Embassy in Korea during the truce negotiations. His assignments in the 1950's included service as Deputy Chief of Mission in Laos, a special assignment in the Philippines for political reporting, and duty with the U.S. Information Agency's Office of African and Near Eastern Affairs.

Following "retirement," and prior to establishing his home here on Ober Road, Paddock, a native of Des Moines, Iowa, and a member of the Princeton Class of 1932, gained first-hand knowledge of West Africa. He chartered a small boat and bounced down the West African coast from Tangier to the Gambia — apparently the first small vessel within memory to have followed this route and to have stopped at each port en route. Afterwards he went on to "Portuguese Guinea" and then out to the Cape Verde islands, where he scored a "tourist first" by visiting each of the ten islands in the mountainous, Portuguese archipelago.

For bringing American readers face-to-face with a subject of over-riding significance to their nation and to the world; for blueprinting how out of the Time of Famines can conceivably emerge an era of greatness not for the United States alone but also for the hungry nations straitjacketed by "the stagnant production of food," he is our nominee for

For Borough. "We think the most desirable and efficient way to grow is by improving what we have, rather than expanding it."

That is the philosophy for the future of Princeton — until 1980 — as set down by the new Borough Master Plan (see map, page 3), in preparation for two years by the Planning Board and Raymond & May, planning consultants. It was released this week.

All Borough residents will receive, later this week, a concise "Highlights" with a bright and graphic map. Next Tuesday, May 16, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall, citizens will be invited to comment on the plan to the Planning Board in public hearing.

Full copies of the Plan are available for inspection in the Princeton Public Library and in the engineer's office, Witherspoon Street.

How to Grow. Controlled growth is the key throughout. The planners "unanimously agreed" to maintain Princeton as a medium-size town with "high quality residential and institutional environment," and the present 12,000 population of the Borough (including students) will be allowed to grow to only 15,000.

Business growth in the center of town should be limited, the planners agree, to an increase of only 50% over existing floor space. (Under present zoning laws, this section could expand as much as 200%.)

This business area will consist of quality specialty shops —no supermarkets or big department stores — served by multi-story parking garages.

Residential areas will remain about the same, and apartments will be encouraged around the main commercial areas.

Streets to be Changed. Two major street revisions are proposed. Alexander Street would be moved east to meet Bayard Lane, and Alexander as it now is would be dead-ended into a quiet residential street. A new Alexander - Bayard - Nassau - Stockton - Mercer intersection would be part of the re-alignment.

The second major street revision calls for turning Washington Road between Nassau and Prospect into a depressed roadway, bridged by plazas to allow pedestrian and bicycle circulation.

For eventual construction, the Plan suggests an arterial road parallel to Nassau and running the entire width of the Borough, from Rosedale along Cleveland Lane, Lafayette, Hodge Road, Avalon - Wiggins and Hamilton to the Borough line. "Arterial," by engineering definition, means a four lane road, 60 feet wide if parking is allowed, 44 feet wide otherwise.

On this route, Hamilton between Chestnut and Linden would be straightened out and the piece of land left over added to the present park-play ground at Chestnut and Hamilton.

DO YOU FAVOR . . .

A traffic light at the dangerous intersection of Elm and Rosedale Roads? If so, you can bring it closer to actuality by signing the petition on page 17.

No Road thru Marquand. Vandeventer would also be widened to "arterial" status so that Washington Road traffic could be channeled to Nassau and the Avalon-Wiggins link. The jog between Washington and Vandeventer would be eliminated.

Harrison would also be widened to "arterial" status and Witherspoon would become a "collector," that is, a road 44 feet wide.

But traffic flow isn't everything, the Board decided. To provide permanent protection for Marquand Park, the proposed road through the park connecting Elm and Springdale is completely wiped out, "definitely rejected." Its lines will be removed from the official map.

Just to show that "a Plan" doesn't mean the end of planning, the Board announces that it will explore "in detail" the need for new housing at various income levels and will examine the whole question of improving housing in the older parts of town.

"We're not going to do all this at once," commented Arthur P. Morgan, chairman of the Planning Board, at a press conference. "The plan is designed to be spread out over the years between now and 1985."

After the Board adopts the plan formally, its various projects will go before Council for ordinances, Mr. Morgan explained. He added that he hopes for the new zoning ordinance by fall.

Highlights of the Master Plan:

Business area: Retail and service uses would be restricted to a "core" along Nassau, Witherspoon, Palmer Square and Hulfish, with parking in the adjoining "Office - parking belt," not in the Core itself.

Multilevel parking garages would provide 1,500 spaces — one-third more than the 925 now in existence. All curb parking on major streets would gradually be eliminated, as these garages are built.

Total floor space in new buildings would be limited to one and one-half times the size of the lot (present limit is three times), and the height of new buildings limited to four stories.

Central Area: Along Witherspoon Street, non-residential uses would be limited to the ground floor, and the Borough would keep its present policy of allowing business only in joint-occupancy buildings.

A "medium density" residential area — actually the area with the highest density in the Borough — lies next to the Core. Here, the Plan would encourage new apartment or "town houses" even on small lots.

Business would gradually be eliminated from residential areas. The one and two-family homes from Jefferson Road to Harrison would be "protected" and older neighborhoods would be watched carefully to prevent deteriorating.

Parks: The planners looked over the map and found very little in the way of parkland, especially in the east. Here they would acquire the land around the former quarry at the dead end of Spruce Street, west of Harrison and adjoining the new Lloyd Terrace for the elderly.

A second large area would be acquired between Harriet Drive and Scott Lane, along a stream bed which is unsuitable for building.

Moving west, there would be a somewhat larger park on Hamilton across from Westminster Choir College, as mentioned above. Between the northern ends of Greenview Avenue and Humbert Street, the Board would build a little vest-pocket park. But the minute playground on Pine Street would be abandoned as useless.

The Board suggests that Clay Street be shut off to traffic, except for a narrow service drive. The additional land would be used for enlarged playground space for children who live to Hageman Homes. The basketball court at the corner of Clay, will probably become a parking lot.

In the northwest corner, in a low plot of land flowing into the Township, another park would be set aside.

If the Seminary ever gives up its playing field next to Marquand Park, this would be added to Marquand. Nassau Park, where Mercer, Alexander, Stockton and Nassau will meet, will also be enlarged, and so, eventually will park lands around the new Borough Hall.

Jugtown: Along Nassau, Jugtown should be a neighborhood business district, but the rest, now zoned for any business use at all, should be restricted to offices, homes and parking.

In Jugtown (the area around the Nassau and Harrison intersection), the Plan warns that new buildings should be set back enough to allow the eventual widening of both Nassau and Harrison.

Where any large parcels of land exist in Jugtown, the Plan suggests garden apartments or town houses. (In their population studies, the planners found that Borough residents are older than they used to be, so more small apartments are needed. These would be built with densities up to 14 units per acre. "Stanworth" is 11.7 units per acre.)

Institutional: Under the new Master Plan, the Borough will have an Educational Zone for the first time. A new set of zoning regulations will implement the suggestions in the plan.

A buffer strip is proposed, where there would be homes, club houses, classrooms or administrative buildings—"quiet, fully-enclosed uses" — and within this buffer, institutions would have more latitude to build than they now have.

"At the same time," the Plan stipulates, "the open spaces of the Borough should be preserved by discouraging very large and tall towering structures."

"It is a logical and sound plan for the future development of the Borough," commented Mr. Morgan. "These are vitally necessary projects if we're to have a sane and sensible town."

STREET CLOSING SET

At Witherspoon-Wiggins. Paving of the intersection at Wiggins and Witherspoon Streets is scheduled to begin Monday, weather permitting.

The Borough Engineering Department has announced that the four-way crossing will be closed to all vehicular traffic for two or three days. Detour routes will be established.

SIX INDICTED

On Narcotics Charges. The six young men who were arrested on January 8 following arrests made on the Princeton University campus were indicted on a series of charges this week by the Mercer County Grand Jury.

Accused of possession and sale of narcotics were Seaton D. Purdom, Moran Avenue; Mark H. Skolnick, San Mateo, Calif.; Jonathan Reinis, Beverly Hills, Calif.; and Peter Solotorovsky, Heather Lane. The first three were undergraduates at Princeton but have since designed.

David A. Hoffman, Baltimore, Md., and Lawrence S. Bookler, Wynnewood, Pa., were charged with possession of narcotics. Hoffman has also withdrawn from the University but Bookler is still in attendance.

HOUSING?

Wait 'till June. The Township Planning Board is looking toward a June meeting with its Citizens' Advisory Committee on Housing.

Representatives of the two dozen organizations making up the Committee are due to report to their parent groups on what has been accomplished. After these constituent organizations have approved the work of their representatives, the Planning Board can call a meeting of the whole.

HERE'S YOUR BOROUGH: The new Master Plan map looks like this. Dotted street lines show proposals, like the link of Alexander with Bayard Lane, and the straightening of Hamilton Avenue. Triangles, to the Park Place parking lot, to the parking complex southeast of the library and in the Chambers Street area, show where parking garages would be built. Circles are parks. The black area is the central business district; the adjoining light crosshatching is office-parking and the dark crosshatching is neighborhood-business. Black roads are crosstown links.

TO CLOSE FRANKLIN

A a Experiment. Franklin Avenue between Linden Lane and Walnut Lane will be closed to all traffic for one month starting Monday and continuing to June 12.

The proposal, agreed to unanimously by Borough Council at its Tuesday night meeting in the public library, came from the Board of Education which would like very much to save the $40,000 estimated cost of constructing a realigned Franklin when Westminster Choir College builds its new dormitory in the roadbed of the present Franklin.

The Board hopes that traffic counts, to be made by the Township between May 15 and June 12, will show that everyone can get along very nicely without any Franklin at all in that part of town.

According to the original agreement made in June, 1964 among the Borough Board of Education, Westminster Choir College and the Township Planning Board, the Borough Board of Education promised to build a new Franklin whenever Westminster claimed its right to build on the old one. The time is "now."

Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan said he was afraid parents accustomed to dropping children at Franklin and Walnut, might throw the whole traffic count awry by dropping them at Franklin and Linden.

Mayor Henry S. Patterson warned Thomas Cook, counsel for the Board of Education, that the Borough was merely agreeing to cut off the street for the one-month period, not agreeing to act as judge on the effects of the action.

Health Code Amended. "We agree on the social problems, but there are very, very serious practical problems," observed Mayor Patterson in comment on the introduction by Council of a housing code amendment requiring inspection of rental units between tenants.

The new ordinance was introduced on unanimous recommendation of the Borough Board of Health, and although public hearing won't be until June 13, there was a good bit of public hearing Tuesday night.

"We want and need guidance on this matter," Mayor Patterson continued. "How picayune should we be? Most of us on Council agree that probably no apartment in the Borough today could pass a complete inspection. We want to remove fear from the tenant, we want to assure fairness for everybody who rents, and we are more than willing to accept responsibility for the additional workload on the health department."

Councilman Robert Hendry, who later voted "no," suggested that more landlords should have leases, with advance payments required of tenants as security.

Who Complaint? "I am opposed because I think the present ordinance is enough," said Dr. Ellwood Godfrey, who used to sit on Council but who sat in the audience instead on Tuesday night.

"It's the responsibility of the individual to complain about bad conditions, and this ordinance shifts responsibility from the individual to government. It increases the cost of government. An individual who lives in a substandard house ought to be man enough to get up and complain."

"It has been alleged," replied Mayor Patterson, "that the voluntary system hasn't worked."

Councilman Enoch Durbin suggested that a routine inspection between tenants was analogous to issuance of a certificate of occupancy for a new house, and he said maybe a fee could be imposed. The final vote: 4-1. Councilman Charles Cornforth was absent.

Hospital: Yes. Princeton Hospital leapt its final hurdle Tuesday night and received, by a 4-1 vote, the approval of Council for variances to build the Medical Arts Building.

"I'm on record as being opposed to the entire project," Walker, before he voted "no." He said he was not satisfied that problems of traffic generation and circulation, and problems of parking had been solved, and he didn't think this was a proper location for a regional hospital anyway.

Mr. Walker introduced an ordinance allowing the Borough to recruit policemen from as far away as eight miles. The present ordinance has a five mile limit.

Mr. Hendry announced that he was abstaining because he disagreed with the way the proposal was presented to Council's Public Safety Committee, on which he serves. He said he hadn't been informed of the meeting with members of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

Mayor Patterson apologized and said he had not notified Mr. Hendry because he thought the matter was a routine one which would be discussed in full detail anyway at the public hearing on June 13.

Mr. Hendry recommended that Borough police be directed to display the flag at Borough Hall every day. He added that, on Loyalty Day, he had not found any flags displayed on Nassau, even at Bainbridge House or Nassau Hall. Neither had the mayor or any Councilmen displayed flags before their houses, he charged.

Mr. Walker took sharp issue with him: "I am as loyal as any American and I don't even own a flag. You don't have to fly a flag at your house just because some Chamber of Commerce thinks you should. It's entirely up to the individual."

In other business, Council accepted a petition from 15 residents of Edwards Place complaining about all-day parkers in front of their homes. Administrator Robert Mooney, Chief McCrohan and Engineer Thomas Cawley will add it to their overall traffic study.

Duane Lockard, 125 Fitz-Randolph, was appointed to the Planning Board to succeed John Marks. Patrolman John Chasko informed Council of his retirement from the police force, effective July 31.

Mr. Cawley, replying to a letter of concern from William W. Augustine, said that the Rosedale-Elm traffic light was still under study by the state.

"Maybe another month," Mr. Cawley said.

MIDDLE SCHOOL DETAILED

At Parents' Meeting. Parents and teachers filled the auditorium of Community Park School to capacity on Tuesday night to hear about the Princeton Regional Board of Education's opens this fall. Eugene Berringer, Middle School principal, outlined the plans first introduced last December by Superintendent John McKenna.

There will be nearly 1,000 students in the Middle School comprising the 6th, 7th and 8th grades of the school system. The school will be divided between two buildings, the present Valley Road School and Community Park School across the street. Each school will have grades 6, 7 and 8.

No architectural changes are involved in turning Community Park School into a middle school, although one parent observed, "They're going to have to raise the drinking fountains!"

The program calls for intramural sports between teams from the two buildings and common use of the athletic fields as the various sports require. There will be two fully-equipped libraries, two cafeterias and two gymnasiums.

Many Questions. Much of the session on Tuesday was devoted to questions and answers on curriculum, such as opportunities for advanced study, homogenous groupings in classes, with the exception of mathematics — all of which Mr. Berringer said will be school policy next year. He noted that sex education will be a part of a course the school nurses will teach next year, and that the Latin offered for study in grades 7 and 8 three days a week will be the equivalent of a full year course by the end of 8th grade.

The "house plan" now in effect at Valley Road will be continued, Mr. Berringer stated. This is a teaching procedure whereby a core of teachers work and plan for the entire year with a core group of students.

He added that there will be at least two classes in Time, Space and Matter (TSM) and in Introductory Physical Science (IPS) in each building next year. French will be

Musical "Quite Pleasing."

The seventh annual P.J.&B. spring musical took place at McCarter last weekend with the performance of "Finian's Rainbow." The entire production was directed by Milton Lyon, who originated the concept of these annual spring presentations and has seen his ideas realized in a most vivid and vital way.

"Finian's Rainbow" is one of the better musicals of the last two decades. It abounds in excellent tunes, songs that are particularly moving, catchy and musically interesting. Though there are a few time-worn lines in the play, the plot is still very meaningful, mainly because its message is still unheeded in too many parts of our country.

The production was on the whole quite pleasing. The large cast which made up the choral portions of the show was executed brilliantly and effectively. The voices of this throng of merry stage folk came through clearly, very much in tune and with the grand lively spirit that is the essence of the successful musical show.

Of the main characters in the plot, Arthur Lithgow as Finian, and Oil Martin as Og were the most convincing and most natural in their portrayals. Both Lithgow and Martin did more than merely portray their respective roles.

They were engaging as personalities and their very actions and words on stage continually held the interest and attention of their audience. Oil Martin, in the difficult role of Og, seemed to grow with the part (as is intended), from a minor, weak personality to the central figure at play's end.

On the other hand, this viewer found Betty Fussell's interpretation of Sharon to be a bit too mannered. Her singing did not project very well and her motions during her songs were more reminiscent of a nightclub singer than the lovely Irish colleen she was attempting to portray.

S. T. Kimbrough (in the role of Woody), was vocally the strongest member of the singing cast. At times however, the dialogue between Woody and Sharon, (the two lovers in the story) seemed a shade unnatural; perhaps the pace of the early portion of the first act went two slowly, for as the play progressed, the action seemed to move more naturally.

One of the highlights of the entire production was the artistry of Joan Lukas' dancing in her portrayal of Susan, (the mute sister of Woody.) Now, here was a convincing performer!

Her graceful movements and animated facial expressions created a character that achieved more importance in the plot that may have originally been intended, for her appearance on stage, like that of Og and Finian's, immediately caught the viewer's eye. She, too, built a minor character into a major one that became memorable.

The large cast performed marvelously as a whole. The timing seemed more natural in the crowd scenes than in the dialogues.

The two pianos (and organ) which served as musical accompaniment and background were effectively performed by Peter Wright, Milton Lyon himself (and Gladys Richards at the organ): though from this writer's vantage point in the hall, the organ was not very audible.

Much credit must be given to Mr. Lyon for his direction of the overall production, because despite some of the weaknesses alluded to earlier, the show had a breath of gayety, spirit and humor that grew as the performance developed. The seventh annual P. J. & B. spring musical has come and gone, but it has again succeeded in providing Princetonians with much warmth, color and joy.

RINGING RAFTERS?

"Jerico-Jim Crow." When "Jerico-Jim Crow" opened off-Broadway in 1964, one critic said joyously, "the rafters rang" and McCarter is tuning up its rafters for the appearance in the theatre of the musical on Saturday, at 8:30.

The original cast will perform, and proceeds will go to the Human Relations Council of Greater Trenton. Tickets from $2.50 to $4. are on sale at the McCarter box-office. Patron tickets, at $7.50, may be purchased from the Council, 142 West State Street, Trenton.

Gilbert Price, the baritone, will head a cast of 18 actors, singers and musicians. Mr. Price won the 1965 Fanny Kemble award for his performance on Broadway in "the Roar of the Greasepaint—the Smell of the Crowd," and before that, won the 1964 Theatre World Award for his work in "Jerico Jam Crow."

Performers also include the Hugh Porter Gospel Singers and Joseph Attles, who appeared in the original 1935 company of "Porgy and Bess."

The musical depicts the history of the American Negro in music and drama, with text by Langston Hughes. The New York Times called it "an unabashedly sentimental and tuneful history of the Negro struggle up from slavery."

According to Audree Estey, artistic director, this is the largest production to be undertaken by the Ballet School. The cast number 235 dancers.

The classic ballet with music by Prokofieff is featured in the repertoire of the Bolshoi, The Royal Danish and Britain's Royal Ballet. Previous Ballet School presentations have included "Sleeping Beauty," performed two seasons ago.

FOLKSINGER COMING

To "The Next Door," Lyle Graham, poet and folksinger from New York, will appear this Friday at "The Next Door." In the basement of the First Presbyterian Church "The Door" is open from 9 p.m. every Friday and Saturday.

Lyle Graham, at ease with both twelve and six string guitars and other folk instruments, has appeared at the Gaslight Cafe and The Four Winds in Greenwich Village. He has recently returned from a folk music journey through the mid west.

For his Princeton audience, he will sing "Looking Glass Mind," "Love Witch of Reed and Ginger" and "Brotherhood of Tuesday," all with his own music and lyrics.

TO GIVE "JEZABEL"

In Trenton Museum. The production group known as "Ensemble Six" will give as its next offering in the State Museum auditorium a verse drama, "Jezabel," by Frederick Olessi.

The play will be presented next Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20, at 8:30 in the auditorium on West State Street. It is suggested as a play for mature audiences.

"Ensemble" has produced several of Mr. Olessi's verse dramas in recent months. Mr. Olessi, a Trenton resident, wrote the libretto for the opera, "Dona Petra, the Widow Ochoa," given last month in Trenton, and the play, "Ecce L'uomo," performed in November.

Bernard Miller, who will be remembered by Princeton theatre goers for the "Evening with Pinter and Ionesco" and as narrator in "Ecco L'Uomo," will direct the cast of four.

Jezabel will be Geri Bryan, actress and dancer, who is currently teaching English and dramatics at Hamilton High School-West. She has appeared on Broadway in "Three's a Family," "John Loves Mary" and "Lysistrata," and with the American Negro Repertory Players, has appeared in "Private Lives," "Voice of the Turtle" and "Blithe Spirit."

In Princeton, Mrs. Bryan has appeared in "The Crucible" and "The Grass Harp." She has also directed several musicals.

Hosea Williams will portray Ahab and Jon Lorrain will be the prophet Elijah. Mr. Williams, who is a senior probation officer for Mercer County, played Joe in the P. J. & B. 'Showboat and also appeared in Mr. Olessi's "Exos."

Mr. Lorrain is a sophomore at Princeton University, where he has been active in Theatre latime, appearing in "The Caretaker," "Oedipus" and "The Taming of the Shrew." He directed "Salome" and "Those That I Fight" for Intime.

Bruce Seaman will be Jehu in Mr. Olessi's drama. His drama credits include appearances in "Tiger at the Gates," "Cyrano," "West Side Story," "Arms and the Man."

Olga Calabrese has arranged montage for "Jezabel" and Thomas Uchlmann has composed the music.

FILMS END

Season Closes at McCarter. "Repulsion," the 1965 thriller from Roman Polanski, will bring to a close McCarter's film program for the season.

The film stars Catherin Deneuve as a young girl driven to instanity by sexual fantasies and repressions. Scenes of horror and violance indicate the film as one for mature audiences only. "Prepare to be demolished when you go to see it," was the observation of the Times' critic.

THAT OLD SURF

Waterlogged? The question mark is merely to ascertain whether you have seen the full length film, "Waterlogged." It played McCarter last spring and will play it again this Friday at 8 p.m.

NEW STORE OPENS

For Marsh's Pharmacy. What a pleasure it is to walk into a bright-faced, shiny new store! The branch store of the Marsh Pharmacy, in the new Montgomery Shopping Center on Route 206, is just such a happy spot.

It's a branch, you know, of the century-old Marsh's at 30 Nassau Street. That store remains, for your in-town shopping convenience.

The new store — well, first we'll tell you how to get there. Drive north, from Princeton, on Route 206, crossing 518. Let the new brick Buxton's be your guide. If you set your sights toward what looks like a shopping center on up the highway, you'll find yourself at the IBM warehouse or Princeton Chemical Research.

The Montgomery Center driveway sneaks up on you because the Center itself faces away from Princeton toward the north. So slow down, right after 518, and turn right, as to Buxton's.

Well, here in suburban Marsh, so to speak, you'll find a rather different kind of store from the one on Nassau. The same scrupulous care for prescriptions, naturally, and the same good, sturdy supply of drug sundries.

But, in addition, there is the kind of merchandise that makes Marsh's, Montgomery, almost a general store. Here, for a rainy Sunday of reading, you can pick up a paperback of Barbara Tuchman's Pulitzer history winner, "The Proud Tower" or a Nero Wolfe mystery or a boogie called "Stories for the Dead of Night."

For youngsters, there are things like "The Sand Pail Book" or the "Adventures of Silly Billy."

PRESCRIPTIONS? YES! Prescriptions are the first order of business at the new branch of the Marsh Pharmacy in the Montgomery Center. Sure, you can buy flashlights and keychains, Timex watches and chewing gum, but prescriptions are the life-blood of the store. Here are Emil Bonglovanni (left), overall manager for Marsh, and Montgomery's two pharmacists, Alex Del Baena (center) and Robert Schnar.

Stuart Hall's stationery line is here, with airmail envelopes and pastel notes and a "Stubby" for making household scribles. (The Parker and Papermate ballpoints are across the store.)

Giving a party? Here's the party section, with paper plates, napkins, coasters, hot-cold cups. You can entertain the five-year-olds at a birthday party, or the neighbors for cocktails. We like the three-martini op art cocktail napkins. And of course, here's the place to buy birthday cake candles — something you always need at the last minute.

Scotch taps and rubber-bands, a protractor and notebook paper. No excuse for not doing homework!

Greeting cards welcome another birthday, a new member of the family or a confirmation day.

Cosmetics at the Marsh branch come from Chanel, Caron, Jean Nate, Yardley. For Daddy, there is Yardley's Black Label and that wicked Jaguar, as well as Pub.

The new branch is open six days a week from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., and Sundays from 11 to 4. Telephone 924-7123 for free delivery.

ART NOUVEAU

Collect Tiffany? Collectors of real Tiffany glass, or people who wish they were, will love to browse the new antique shop at 175 Nassau called Princeton Antiques.

The shop specializes in Art Nouveau from the turn of the century, and in Tiffany glass. The Tiffany pieces are all genuine, and although some prices are for museum pocketbooks only, the modest collector may have a true piece of Tiffany glass for as little as $9. It's a three-inch tile. A slightly larger glass tile is $25.

An exquisite vase, about 12 inches tall and shaped rather like a bulbous dumbell, is the pride and prize of the shop. Its darkly luminous green and violets, its free forms and its superb craftsmanship make it a delight to behold.

Here's a different kind of Tiffany, a two-arm bronze candlestick inset with globules of opaque green glass. And an 18 inch compote, shallow and exquisitely beautiful with its shadings of amethyst and green. It stands on a hexagonal pedestal of silver.

But the loveliest Tiffanys are the tall candlesticks. They are slim dark bronze rods, rising from six-inch supporting discs, and they hold the tulip-shaped cups that shelter the candleflame.

When a candle is lit inside this beautiful glass, the amber flickers bring out what collectors call the "action" within the glass. Can you imagine how a pair would enhance a dining table?

From a gentleman named Nash, who worked with Tiffany in his glass-blowing establishment, Princeton Antiques has a number of signed pieces. One is a collection of eight plates done in the softest grey green with a textured pattern of swirls, and of course, the HOMBRE: Paul Newman, Diane Cilento and Martin Balsam are beseiged by bandits in a fight over $12,000 embezzled from the Apache reservation in the western held over at the Prince Theatre.

News Of The Theatres

Bruce Brown, its producer, has photographed and produced such films as "Slippery When Wet," "Barefoot Adventure" and the most recent, "The Endless Summer."

"Waterlogged" features prime footage from all prior releases, and represents about a hundred thousand miles of travel searching for the ultimate wave.

Hombre (through Thursday) Paul Newman is a well acted, sombre western. (Reviewed in last week's issue.)

Casino Royale (opens Friday) This is the film that bored the London critics, delighted the provinces and knocked them dead in Paris.

It's an extravagant, sexy spy spoof, teaming with impersonators of James Bond, Keystone Kop sequences, cowboys, Indians, hundreds of fighting near-nudes and thousands of extras. The finale is a brawl involving the cavalry, parachuted Indians and every variety of mayhem.

Peter Sellers, David Niven, Woody Allen, Ursula Andress and Deborah Kerr are among the cast of at least 14 ranking stars. The comedy ranges from sly British wit and deft satire to zany sight gags and slapstick. And for good measure, there are the Tijuana Brass and op-pop decor.

After you've been though this free for all, you'll never be able to keep a straight face when a James Bond film brings out the gadgets.

PRINCE

Hombre (held over) Paul Newman western, reviewed last week. Casino Royale (reviewed above) opens Friday.

GARDEN

A Man and a Woman (now playing). This French film won the grand prize at the 1966 Cannes Film Festival. It contains a love story that is simply, refreshingly photographed in fine color, with occasional touches of black-and-white and sepia tones to make it a bit on the different side.

Anouk Aimee is cast as a widow who meets Jean-Louis Trintignant, a widower, one Sunday as they are visiting their children at a boarding school. She tells him she works in the technical end of films and that she was once married to a stunt man who was killed while performing for a film. Trintignant later explains that he is a race track driver. After an accident, his wife's nerves snapped, and she committed suicide.

The two spend some delightful Sundays together with their children, until the memory of the stunt man looms out of all proportions.

The running time (102 minutes) is a little long, but the cast is excellent and Claude Lelouch's direction is of unusual quality. The musical score is quite impressive. (English titles).

The other Nash piece is a tall dark red vase with slender neck and spherical base.

Besides the Tiffany pieces, Princeton Antiques has gold jewelry from a half-century ago . . . (or longer: some are 100 years old). Many are gold bar pins, some delicately etched, others carrying a single stone. There are flower or bow pins, perhaps with pearl blossoms or a spray of garnets.

CARE FOR A CHAIR?

. Is Wrought Iron? Yellow combines handsomely with wrought iron — ever notice? You have, of course, noticed Nassau Interiors' Patio Shop windows, at 360 Nassau. Here are floral yellow cushions and solid yellow cushions against a softly verdigreen wrought iron, and the combination is cheerful on a rainy day or cooling on a hot one.

But maybe you don't like flowers. Try Nassau Interiors' black-white gingham cushions on these black wrought iron chairs with the high scrolly backs, the ones drawn up to a round table with white Formica or walnut Formica top.

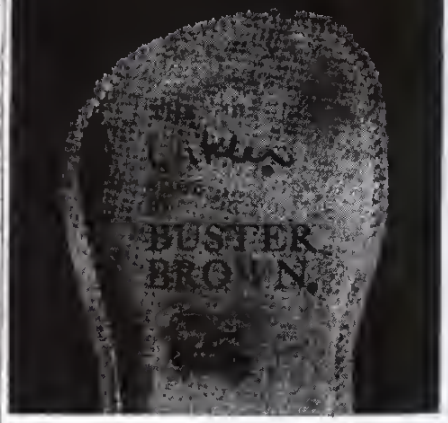
FAN SHAPED TOE... ROOM TO GROW!



When you take a Wikler shoe off your child's foot you won't see any red marks across his instep and toes, or around the back of the heel. The new Wikler shoe by Buster Brown has a flared and broadened fan-shaped toe outline. It's curved to follow every natural line of your child's foot. More wiggle room for toes. Complete freedom to flex, exercise and grow. A Wikler shoe is made with the very softest uppers. No irritating inside seams or stiff metal shanks to chap or chafe. Just natural shape and give. And the feeling of "going barefoot with shoes on".

You may have the round tables in almost any diameter from 30 inches for a cozy twosome, up to—well, is 48 inches big enough? An oblong table, if you prefer, might be the 30x48.

If you like the durability of wrought iron, but don't care for squiggles, Nassau Interiors suggests a round wood-finish table with four yellow chairs composed of rods instead of curls. Each chair swiveles, each chair is cushioned with a gay floral pad, and the whole would be just right for a contemporary house.

Anodized aluminum looks like gold. Combine it with the glisten of plastic tubing on a lounge chair and you have a gold and white summer piece that is pure luxury. The tubing has been heat-sealed so that it won't slip, by the way.

The Patio Shop is also happy about its Barca lounger. This aluminum contour chair is a classic by now, but not always easy to find here in the east. If you're from California, you knew it by heart.

At Nassau Interiors, it comes with yellow, rust, green or deep aqua taut canvas, at $39.95. Take it indoors to the den in the winter.

the only modern language offered, pending further research by the Board of Education.

Several parents brought up the matter of "considerable disparity in the experience and competence of the teachers" and asked what arrangements are being made for children who have suffered a poor teacher in that subject next year.

He also commented briefly on the proposal that the students cross Witherspoon Street for classes in each building. This was abandoned, he said, "because we would need either a bridge or a tunnel, and none of our teachers want tunnel duty." There was general laughter. Various members of the faculty also answered questions from the floor. The presentation was roundly applauded at the close of the meeting.

WALLACE TO SPEAK

In Dillon Gym. George Wallace, former governor of Alabama, will speak in Dillon Gymnasium on the University campus at 8 p.m. this Thursday, under the sponsorship of the Whig Cliosophic Society of the University.

Borough Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan said this week that he expects "a few demonstrations" but no trouble. It is expected that Mr. Wallace will come with his own security force, including several Alabama state troopers.

PAHR, the Princeton Association for Human Rights, various members of the University community and the Mercer County Political Action Committee are expected to make known their opposition to Mr. Wallace. In a statement issued this week, PAHR said:

"The Princeton Association for Human Rights condemns racism and the views of its leading symbol, George Wallace. PAHR affirms his right to speak, but his appearance this week at Princeton University will not be a debate: it will be an occasion for propagandizing his notorious racist views.

"PAHR urges its members who attend to join those in the University community who will express their protest by walking out at the appropriate moment."

The statement is signed by Henry Drewry, president; the Rev. Rowland Cox and Seymour Alpert, vice-presidents; Mrs. Frankie Hines, secretary and George Geary, treasurer. It is also endorsed by 18 members of the PAHR Steering Committee. A spokesman for PAHR said there would be no picketing by the organization.

The Mercer County Political Action Committee has announced that it will remain outside the gym. If a capacity crowd fills the gym and the doors are closed, the Committee will wait outside to join PAHR members and the others as they leave the gym. Then, bearing placards of protest against Mr. Wallace, the group will proceed to a Whig-Clio rally.

It is understood that the signal for the walkout will be the request by a student leader in the audience to read a statement before Mr. Wallace begins to speak.

NEW POST OFFICE?

One Step Farther. "Princeton is such a problem child!" exclaimed Arthur Parsons of the Post Office Department Monday night after he had lined up figures and facts for the Township Planning Board.

The Board seemed to agree: it approved the idea of a 35,000-square foot main post office for Princeton on a five-acre plot on North Harrison Street, north of Terhune.

The Township Zoning Board must still grant a few variances, (side yard especially) and it will be 90 days before Mr. Parsons has complete working drawings of the building (contemporary design, not Colonial) and he has to convince Federal officials that a post office needs all that land. Then plans must be put out to bid. Ground-breaking isn't ex-

REUNION PLANNERS: Princeton High School's Class of 1937 will hold a dinner dance May 20 at the Princeton Inn. Making arrangements are Donald Carroll, reunion committee chairman; Dorothy Hendrickson Pierson, class secretary; Hannah Raymond Tindall, reunion committee secretary; and Marjorie Davidson Bird, class vice-president.

Topics Of The Town

Mr. Persons told the Planning Board that the building will be big enough to serve Princeton for the next 20 years. He described a 30,000 square-foot structure with a roofed loading platform 25 x 110 feet in the rear, parking in the rear for employees and post office trucks, and parking in front for the customers.

Parking Questioned. W. J. Shinn, Township zoning officer, told Mr. Persons he would need 106 parking spaces, 29 more than the proposal provides. Mr. Persons maintained that post office customers don't stay long enough to need much parking space, and he added, "We'll do whatever you want us to do because we've got enough land, but we'd rather leave some greenery."

The post office official told the Planning Board that Princeton has 28 mail trucks and 143 employees. Not all of either come to the post office building at the same time, he said. A maximum of 10 trucks might be at the loading platform at the same time. Some 40% of the employees check in for the early morning shift, another 40% later in the afternoon and the rest at various times. He did not have precise shift hours.

"Mail is a serious problem in this community," Mr. Persons told the Board and nobody contradicted him. "Princeton has more mail per capita than any other community in this area. You've got a lot of people who do a lot of heavy reading and get a lot of correspondence," he observed.

He reminded the Board that, if and when a new post office is constructed, the present "annex" on lower University Place will be completely disbanded. The new building will be the main building, and the present post office on Palmer Square will be a branch. All post office boxes will be in the new structure.

In other business, the Planning Board approved a total of 38 new lots: 17 for the University's Pretty Brook development, 17 for North Hill at Princeton (west of Route 206 and south of Ridgeview Road), two for Estelle Fitch Pettit in the Ridgeview-Cherry Hill-Cherry Valley area and two for Thomas Zawadski in the Cherry Hill-Balcort section.

PHS CLASS TO GATHER

For 30th Reunion. The Princeton High School Class of 1937 will hold its 30th reunion at the Princeton Inn on Saturday, May 20. Cocktails will be served at 6:30 followed by dinner and dancing to the music of Larry Kennedy.

Supervising the affair is Donald Carroll, chairman of the Reunion Committee. Assisting him are Dorothy Hendrickson Pierson, class secretary; Hannah Raymond Tindall, secretary of the reunion committee; Marjorie Davison Bird, class vice-president; Helen Warren Carroll, Ralph Hulit, Gertrude Britton Kimble, Simeon Moss, and Mary Holohan Waidron.

The committee is unable to locate: Raymond Bing, Virginia Rose Hinson, Catherine Marie Fulginita, Arthur Holbrow, Marian Coe Hillhouse, Eugene Commender, Sarah Clifton Cogan, Charles E. Dooney, Miriam Davis, Ellen Fuessell, Judith Knight, Miriam Mileski, Genevieve Obuchowski, Ellen Suydam and Theresa Trent. Anyone knowing the location of any of these persons should contact Mrs. Charles G. Tindall, Princeton Junction.

TWO LOSE LICENSES

In Township Court. Two Township drivers had their licenses revoked in traffic court last week by Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr.

John J. Smithson, 21, 67 Randall Road, had his license revoked for 60 days and was fined $25 for careless driving. Failing to keep right cost John B. O'Neil, 18, 115 Lafayette Road, his driving privileges for 15 days and a $10 fine.

Charles J. Melvin, 18, Highway 27, paid two fines: $15 for failing to give a proper signal, and $5 for having no license in his possession.

In Borough court Monday, Magistrate Theodore T. Toms Jr. fined Henry F. Pannell, 27, 32 Lytle Street, and Phyllis Spring, 36, Magie Apartments, $20 each for speeding. Mrs. Spring pleaded not guilty.

Daniel L. Calhoun, 17, 9 Basin Street, Kingston, paid $10 for driving an unsafe vehicle, and Steve T. Fiorero, 16, Princeton-Hightstown Road, Cranbury, paid $15. Into inspection.

STUDENTS TO TEACH in University Program. "A university ought to be producing teachers for public schools," mused Henry H. Callard, head of teacher placement for Princeton University, as he described Princeton University's new program designed to prepare undergraduates for teaching careers in the public schools.

The new program, under Mr. Callard's direction, has already been through a pilot phase. It will start full force in September with 25 Princeton undergraduates who will do practice teaching at Princeton High School, Lawrence Township High, Trenton High and, perhaps, the new Middle School of the Princeton Regional Schools. A few students have been teaching this spring at PHS, The Hun School and Princeton Day School.

The idea has the blessing of the New Jersey Department of Education, although the Department isn't quite ready to say that young men who graduate in the program will receive teacher certification. That will come in time.

State experts will observe the program as it goes along, and will examine University courses to see whether they line up with state certification requirements.

Education Apprenticeship. "We believe," explains Mr. Callard, "that a general education with concentration in a field, plus certain electives in psychology, sociology, philosophy or history, provide the academic training for a teacher when he has had apprentice experience."

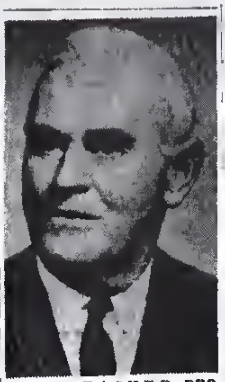
Courses to be added by the University for the program, will be valuable to any undergraduate, Mr. Callard points out. The University will probably add such courses as the history of learning, the history of American education, and so on.

The undergraduates will be trained in five subject-matter areas: English, history, mathematics, science and languages. They will not be concerned with art or music, Mr. Callard says.

The University has been planning the program for the past two years, ever since President Robert F. Goheen appointed a study committee in April, 1965.

University undergraduates have been involved with tutoring projects for some time, and Mr. Callard said this week that 70 to 80 undergraduates were signed up with the Trenton tutorial program that tutors disadvantaged children in the Trenton area, and with the Princeton Study Center. In addition, many undergraduates have worked with Head Start and Upward Bound programs in the summer.

Mr. Callard joined the University staff last June as Director of the newly created office of Teacher Education and Placement. He was formerly headmaster of The Gilman School in Baltimore, and was responsible for integrating that school. He was graduated from Johns Hopkins in 1925 and received his M.A. in education from Harvard in 1938.



LEADS TEACHER PROGRAM: Henry H. Callard is directing Princeton University undergraduates in an apprentice teaching program. See "Topics of the Town."

STUDENTS TO BENEFIT From Negro College Fund. Henry N. Drewry, chairman of the Department of Social Science at Princeton High School, is supervising the Princeton drive of the United Negro College Fund. New Jersey residents will hopefully contribute $150,000 toward the national goal of some $5,000,000 for improving Negro educational facilities.

Mr. Drewry has announced the appointment of several Princetonians to his campaign committee. Members include: Mr. and Mrs. David H. Blair, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chauncey, Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Goheen, Governor Richard J. Hughes, Dr. Karl Kayser and Dr. James I. McCord.

Also on the committee will be: Mr. and Mrs. Ledlie I. Laughlin, Mayor Henry S. Patterson II, Rev. C. Shelby Rooks, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Schieds, Mr. and Mrs. William Sword, Rev. Walter D. Wagoner and Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Wuxwood Jr.

FIRE HYDRANT SNAPPED By Drunken Driver. Before he was stopped by a Borough patrol car, James Finney, 29, of Trenton, had struck a parked car, snapped a fire hydrant off at its base and leveled a small sapling while driving Saturday night on Nassau Street near St. Paul's School.

Finney, uninjured, although his car had to be towed away, was arrested by Ptl. John J. Bellow and taken to police headquarters where he was given a Breathalyzer test. He measured over the allowable maximum. In addition, a check with the motor vehicle department revealed that Finney had had his license suspended in May, 1964 and it had not been renewed since.

In court Monday, Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. fined Finney $225 on the drunken driving charge and $205 for driving while on a revoked list. He pleaded guilty to both charges.

Police quoted witnesses to the 9 p.m. mishap as saying Finney was driving in a very erratic manner when his car swerved to the right. It first struck a parked car owned by Phillip J. Golden, 750 State Road, then jumped the curb, snapped the firm hydrant and flattened a small tree.

Finney told Ptl. Bellow that he had swerved to avoid an oncoming car and was on his way to a gas station to check his damage. He added he was unaware he had struck a fire hydrant.

Falls Asleep at Wheel. Joseph W. Harrison, 30, Dover Road, Trenton, told Township police he fell asleep while driving on the Princeton-Kingston Road Saturday evening shortly after 6.

His car ran off the road and rammed a Public Service pole in front of the house at 670, breaking the pole in two pieces. He then continued on for another 117 feet, police said.

Mr. Harrison received six sutures at Princeton Hospital

SCIENTISTS PROMOTED

At Textile Research. Two Textile Research Institute senior scientists have been promoted to the post of associate director. They are Dr. Bernard Miller, 31 Herrontown Circle, and Dr. Hans-Dietrich Weigmann, 153 Kendall Road in Kendall Park.

Dr. Miller, a former associate professor of chemistry at American University in Washington, D. C., joined TRI in 1963. His main field of interest is the application of heat analysis techniques to textile chemical systems.

Dr. Weigmann studied at the Universities of Hamburg and Heidelberg in Germany and received a doctorate in organic chemistry in Aachen, Germany, before coming to the United States in 1961 as a postdoctorate fellow at TRI. His primary interest is protein fiber chemistry.

ENGINEER CONTRACTED

By Applied Research. Eugene A. Jackson has joined Princeton Applied Research Corporation as senior applications engineer. He formerly worked in the Space Center of Astro-Electronics Division of RCA.

Eugene A. Jackson

Mr. Jackson's main field of interest is applied physics — infrared technology, temperature measurement, radiometry and high vacuum systems. He is particularly skilled in using new instruments to measure the effectiveness of different equipment and systems.

Mr. Jackson has worked for a number of firms: Astro Systems in Caldwell, Perkin-Elmer Corporation, Sikorsky Aircraft, Barnes Engineering and also the U. S. Naval Proving Grounds. He lives with his wife and two children on Cherry Valley Road.

TRADE-IN OFFERED

For "Barbie" at Zinder's. Zinder's, 102 Nassau Street, has been designated an "Official Barbie Trade-In Headquarters" by Mattel, Inc. for its 1967 Twist 'n Turn Barbie fashion doll.

By trading in their old Barbie doll, Princeton area children may obtain at Zinder's the new Twist 'n Turn Barbie for $1.50 — less than half the normal retail price. The supply of new dolls is limited, however, and owner Merrill Zinder said they would be sold on a first-come basis.

Dolls traded-in will be donated to the St. Michael's Orphanage in Hopewell, Mr. Zinder said, for distribution to the children there. The new Twist 'n Turn Barbie is the first major design change in the popular Barbie doll which was first introduced in 1959.

for a laceration of his chin. He was ticketed by Pfc. Samuel Blanco for careless driving.

Sylvester T. Bowman, 56, Browns Mill, struck the Stony Brook Bridge on Mercer Road Friday evening, some 20 minutes before midnight. He was treated for a lacerated lip at Princeton Hospital and released.

Mr. Bowman told police as he started to round a curve approaching the bridge, his car went into a skid. It crossed over the opposite lane and struck the corner of the wall of the bridge. His car had to be towed away.

IN FATAL ACCIDENT

Loses License One Year. Thomas T. Willis, 23, 102 W. Broad Street, Hopewell, has had his license revoked for one year by the state's Division of Motor Vehicles for being involved in a fatal accident.

Richard E. Bernard, 27, Canal Road, lost his license for six months for driving while intoxicated in Massachusetts. Halted for one month under the point system was Peter F. Rogers, Jr., 25, 345 Ewing Street.

FRONT WINDOW BROKEN

At Renwick's. A six-foot by eight-foot front window of Renwick's Restaurant, 50 Nassau Street, was broken early Friday morning by a beer bottle.

Chief Peter J. McCrohan said that two or three stones were also hurled at the window but it was the beer bottle that shattered it. He added it was the third time in less than a year that a window at Renwick's has been broken.

A night janitor called the police at 4:27 a.m. from the Princeton Inn. Chief McCrohan reported that a car was seen driving off in a hurry.

A four-by-eight foot plate glass window at the 370 Nassau Street annex of the First National Bank of Princeton was broken during the weekend.

Police said the $129 window appeared to have been hit by pellet from a gun, possibly a BB gun. Victor Wilkes of the annex called the police.

Curtis G. Callan Jr., 120 Prospect Avenue, reported early last week that the rear window of his car had been shattered when a beer bottle had been hurled through it. His car had been parked on Prospect, he said.

ed at 5:27. "Flames were billowing out the window when we got there," said farmer fire chief Robert Mooney. Firemen used extension ladders to rescue some students from the third floor above the flaming room. Others jumped to the ground or climbed down sheet ladders.

The 15-minute blaze gutted the front room of a suite occupied by Martin G. Gottschalk, 21, and Charles K. Schaber, 22, both juniors. The cause of the blaze, which was confined to the one room, has not been determined.

A second general alarm the same day, this one at 3:55 p.m., was sounded for a fire at Gala Dry Cleaners, 43 Witherspoon.

Before the fireman could arrive, however, police from two Borough patrol cars — Sgt. Michael Carnevale, Ptl. Stanley Donald and Ptl. Tim Huizing — had quelled a burning dry cleaning machine with powder extinguishers. Ptl. Samuel Bienco and Ptl. Anthony Pinelli of the Township police also assisted.

BEAUTY SALON ENTERED

$6 in Coins Taken. The Caprice Beauty Salon, 262 Alexander Street, was entered over the weekend by someone who broke a corner window in the rear of the salon.

Detective Fred Porter said that six dollars in quarters were taken from a cash register.

The Cherry Valley Road home of Nicholas Cameron was entered between 5 and 5:45 p.m. Thursday.

Detective Porter said that entry was gained through a door off the garage. The intruder opened several drawers throughout the house but the only article reported missing by the police was a bottle of Scotch.

An attempt to enter the New Jersey Banker's Association building on North Harrison Street was also made. Police found a small pane of glass broken in the rear of the building but they added that apparently there was no actual entry.

A WALK IN THE WOODS

At Harrontown. Special field trips for school groups in grades three through 12 will be held at Herrontown Woods on Snowden Lane starting next Monday and continuing through June 23.

"Spring life of the Forest," is the theme of the trips. Dr. Richard Kramer of Rutgers University, naturalist for Herrontown Woods, will guide groups of students, no more than 30, at 9 a.m., 10:30 a.m. or 1 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays.

Urgently Needed!

A Traffic Light at the Intersection of Elm and Rosedale Roads

Any motorist who has driven through the intersection of Rosedale and Elm Roads during the early morning rush period is undoubtedly aware of the extremely dangerous and intolerable traffic conditions which exist and can undoubtedly add their own personal experiences and frustrations to mine.

The local authorities are well aware of the situation and are attempting to have the State install a traffic light at the intersection; however the final authority lies with the State Division of Motor Vehicles and there is no guarantee if or when a light will be installed.

All residents who use the intersection can help by signing the following petition and additionally, by writing personally to Miss June Strelecki, with a copy to the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Princeton.

CC: Mayor and Council
Borough of Princeton

To: June Strelecki
Department of Law and Public Safety
Division of Motor Vehicles
25 South Montgomery Street
Trenton, New Jersey

Re: A request by this petition for the immediate installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Rosedale and Elm Roads in the Borough of Princeton, New Jersey.

Dear Miss Strelecki:

We, the undersigned are citizens and motorists who are constantly faced with a dangerous and intolerable traffic situation at the intersection of Rosedale and Elm Roads in the Borough of Princeton. We feel the danger at the intersection is of enough magnitude to warrant priority for the immediate installation of a traffic light.

We realize that you currently have on file many hundreds of requests for traffic lights, that there is a regular procedure for determining the actual need based on traffic count statistics and that it is impossible for you to be personally aware of every traffic hazard that might exist.

The intent of this petition is not to criticize but to express our concern and sense of urgency to have the situation rectified.

Because of the nature and the volume of traffic the intersection is always dangerous; the conditions any week day morning between 7:30 and 8:30 when the school, commuter, and other motorists meet head on is difficult to comprehend unless you witness it personally. It is a case of bluff, nerve, and danger in order to pass through; a situation that daily jeopardizes the lives of hundreds of adults and children.

We urge you to use your influence and authority in helping us in the effort to quickly install a traffic light at the intersection.

Thank you for your consideration.

Signed:

To: William W. Augustine

This is to authorize you to sign my name on the above petition and to enclose with the petition this form as a means of verification of my name on the petition.

ANNUAL APPEAL STARTS

For Berkshire Farm. The 38th annual Princeton appeal for the Berkshire Farm, a residential school for delinquent and problem boys, is now underway. Directing the drive is Mrs. Bevis Longstreth, Princeton treasurer for Berkshire Farm.

The Farm is a private, residential treatment and training school which offers a one year program for special juvenile cases. The nonsectarian and interracial camp was founded in Canaan, N. Y., in 1886 by a Morristown couple.

Although courts and welfare agencies that refer 12 to 16 year old boys to Berkshire Farm pay a portion of the costs, the Farm must raise at least $200,000 a year in contributions from private citizens.

Assisting Mrs. Longstreth in raising part of this money are: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Breuer, Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Engstrom, Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Erdman Jr., Richard V. Lindabury, Mr. and Mrs. David H. McAlpin, Mrs. Minot C. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. P. Rogers, Mrs. Fenn Stafford and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wallace Jr.

Tax deductible checks may be made payable to the Berkshire Farm for Boys. They should be sent to Mrs. Longstreth, Box 285, Princeton.

"They Missed the Point."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It was interesting to read Mrs. William Mist's letter in last week's TOWN TOPICS, which is in complete agreement with the Family Movie Committee. This letter was immediately followed by the heading "Sex Is Not to Be Censored" and a letter written by Steven Feldman, a University student.

Mr. Feldman, and several people who answered the Question of the Week, are absurdly under the wrong impression. They have missed the point.

The Family Movie Committee is not trying to censor movies in Princeton; they are asking for a choice. As stated in their letter, they are proposing that a family type movie in one of the two theatres each week-end become a booking policy. Surely, sexy films during the week and one a week end should not leave the University students too frustrated.

Inadequate Enforcement.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

At its last meeting, the Township Board of Health expressed its satisfaction with the existing enforcement provisions of the housing code. No additions or revisions, nor periodic inspections or certificates of occupancy were considered necessary.

Spot inspections are apparently to be increased, but no other changes are contemplated. The existing procedures were termed adequate to deal with the situation.

This unequivocal statement by the Board (in contrast with the expressed views of the Borough Board of Health, and of many members of the community) will be of interest to those who have lived under conditions which violate the code, and who might welcome some additional enforcement measures.

We shall all be interested to observe the outcome of these spot inspections. For, if those conditions which aroused the concern of interested citizens do not show speedy improvement, no further evidence will be needed to demonstrate the patent inadequacy of the existing procedures for enforcement of the code.

NOTICE

TOWN TOPICS will make every effort, based on space limitations, to publish up to 500 words of any letter on a subject directly affecting the Princeton area. Because of the volume of news which must be covered at the community level, letters on topics of a national or international nature cannot be considered.

Letters to Mailbox should be typewritten if possible, double-spaced, and must be signed for publication. Those received later than Monday afternoon may be held for use the following week.

A Different Viewpoint.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Your music critic's review of the Princeton Chamber Orchestra's performance of Gluck's "Orfeo" somehow brought to mind the classical psychoanalyst joke that ends . . . "Who listens?"

Obviously, the singing of Mmes. Forrester and Harsanyi deserved the highest praise. But the orchestral performance? "Precision" and "balance"? On a par with the finest chamber groups that have appeared on the McCarter stage (The Netherlands group, for example)?

The audible facts were that the attacks were often ragged, pitch often questionable, and matters instrumental so generally awry that a flute solo — probably splendidly played by Mr. Wummer — could not be heard, the singers often had to push their way ahead of the volume of the orchestra, and it was often hard to tell which choir was handling the thematic material.

To be sure, the conductor was, on external evidence, having a wide assortment of emotional experiences. But precisely this seemed to keep him from doing his basic work of giving clear cues, and getting from a group of fine musicians the qualities in performance that your critic declares were there, but which were painfully missing.

Pools Number Is 921-9480

The Princeton Recreation Center, 138 Nassau Street, is the home of the Princeton bowling lanes. It has nothing to do with the Joint Recreation Board of the Borough and Township.

Mike Baelle, assistant manager of the Recreation Center, reports that he has been flooded with telephone calls from people seeking information about joining the Community Park swimming pools and tennis courts, which are due to open for the first time and are operated by the Joint Recreation Commission.

The number to call for information about the pools or courts is 921-9480.

Duplicated Effort.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I was approached by the Cancer Society of New Jersey to collect money at my block. To my surprise, I heard that my neighbor collected at the same time for the Leukemia Society.

Since Leukemia is cancer of the blood, the research concerning this disease forms part of cancer research. Statistics show without any doubt that the greater part of their money-raising enterprises go to the organization which does it. I find it a waste of money and energy to have two organizations devoted to the same purpose. Moreover it seems to me particularly foolish to have the collection done at the same time.

A FOLK SINGER SINGS: Sandy Behrend, guitarist and singer and member of the Princeton Folk Music Society, leads the youngsters gathered in Borough Hall for a Princetonian Junior Museum family "sing." Got a guitar? A dulcimer? A banjo? Yes, too, can join the Society.

MUSIC In Princeton

YOU BLUE GRASS?

Nope, Bluegrass. When members of the Princeton Folk Music Society begin to tune up for one of their monthly meetings, the sounds are various but all in harmony.

The Society has been in format existence since 1963, and incorporated as a non-profit institution since 1964, but it came to the delighted ear of the Princeton public when the Junior Museum began to hold family "sings" on Sunday.

One of these "sings," held on last Sunday's rainy afternoon, drew about 150 singing boys and girls, and a few parents, to the bare downstairs hallway of old Borough Hall

Eight members of the Society sat in front, with banjos, guitars and autoharps, and led the happy youngsters — some of them only nursery size — through Aunt Rhody, the pig that went oink-oink, the nursery rhyme silly that ends ". . . and threw it out the window," all through the dreary rainy afternoon

Get a Chord? Usually, the folk singers gather in the evening, perhaps to hear a program prepared by members, perhaps to hear an outside specialist Always the members separate at some point in the evening into specialty groups Blue grass? You go with the group down in the den. Blues and ballads? They're in the dining room Instrumentalists? Banjo pickers line up here. A few in the Society like Lee Dratfield, are specialists in foreign songs, a few in children's songs.

In workshop sessions, members will learn how to refine a technique, how to play a particular kind of back up for blues or Carter family style. Workshops are well-attended and serious, with sociability and coffee and cookies coming later.

At present, the Society is strongest in traditional country music, but any kind of folk music is welcome, including the Scandinavian.

Membership. There are about 50 members, not much different from the 60 or 70 people who turned out in 1963 to the Hootenanny held at Princeton's YWCA at the call of Nancy Nickolaysen and Yvonne Aronson.

It was that gathering, so wildly successful, that led to "Let's do it again!" and an engagement at the Hun School and an invitation to return to Hun.

Incorporation as a non-profit enterprise sounds rather forbidding for a group of folk-singers, but the Society needed the formality in order to bring guest artists into the University's non-profit Alexander Hall

Here, in an atmosphere quite removed from blue grass, the Society has presented Doc Watson, whom many members regard as the finest traditional guitarist around, and his colleagues Fred Price and Clint Howard.

Here they presented Dave Van Ronk, the blues specialist; here, the New Lost City Ramblers and also — to the delicate shudders of purists in the Society — Muddy Waters and his Blues Band.

Most members of the Society are classic in their approach to folk music. As Mrs. Aronson puts it, "Thou shalt not plug in!" In other words, if you've got an electric guitar, the exit is over there

The appearance of Muddy Waters was softened somewhat by Bill Monroe and his Blue Grass Boys and the Blue Sky Boys, Bill and Earl Bolick.

Who sings in the Folk Music Society? Anybody. If you've only had two lessons, come along. If you're Cynthia Gooding with a wealth of professional experience, come along (Mrs. Gooding has been a member of the board of directors.)

Also, from Princeton High School, there are the Marrowbone Creek Vagrants and from Princeton at large, Lee Dratfield, Barbara Cody, Sandy and Dean Behrend and an assortment of undergraduate and graduate students

The youngest is 18. Nobody asks about the age at the top

COUNTRY MUSIC PLANNED

By Folk Society. Bluegrass and old-time country music will be presented by Paul Tunick at this Friday's meeting of the Princeton Folk Music Society. The session begins at 8:15 p.m in the auditorium of the Nassau Street School.

Mr Tunick, a senior at Princeton University, will give the program in the form of tapes and demonstrations.

CONCERT ON SUNDAY

By Vassar - Princeton. The Princeton University Orchestra will present a free concert at 3:30 this Sunday in the McCarter Theatre.

The program of the 90 member combined orchestra will consist of the Beethoven Overture to "Fidelio," op. 72; the Ravel orchestration of Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition" and Benjamin Britten's "Four Sea Interludes," op. 33a, from the opera "Peter Grimes." Sharing conducting honors will be Robert Freeman of Princeton and Robert Rudin of Vassar.

The concert, sponsored jointly by the Friends of Music at Princeton and the Department of Music at Vassar, will also be performed in Skinner Hall at Vassar this Sunday evening.

Plans for the University Orchestra's 1967-68 season include a performance of the Stravinsky Concerto for Piano and Wind Orchestra, with Professor Edward T. Cone of the music department as soloist. There will be a concert with the Princeton High School Choir, William Trego, conductor, and the Second Annual Concerto Competition will be held in January.

LISTEN, NEXT SEASON . . . To Chamber Orchestra. Three concerts for Princeton have been scheduled by the Princeton Chamber Orchestra for the 1967-68 season. They will be given November 21, March 25 and April 28, under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi.

William Masselos will be soloist for the first concert in the Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 2 in B Flat, Opus 18. The program will also include the premiere of a new work by the Princeton composer, Mark Brunswick, a Divertimento for String Orchestra by Bartok and a Haydn symphony.

On March 25, the orchestra will present the world premiere of a new work by Milton Babbitt, "Correspondences for String Orchestra and Synthesized Tape." Mozart's Adagio and Fugue (K.546), Richard Strauss' Duet Concertino for Clarinet and Bassoon and the Perichetti Symphony No. 5, Opus 81, will complete the program.

For its final Princeton appearance, the orchestra will present the glee clubs of Princeton University and Goucher College in the Haydn "Nelson" Mass and the Vesperae solemnes de Dominica (KV 321) by Mozart.

Information regarding subscriptions may be obtained from the offices of the Princeton Chamber Orchestra, 20 Nassau, or from the McCarter Theatre box office.

A HEARING SET

For New Compositions. An opportunity to hear the music of today's young composers will be offered in a series of two free concerts at Woolworth Center featuring compositions by graduate student composers at Princeton.

The first will be held at 5:30 this Saturday, performed by the Composer's String Quartet. It will be followed on Sunday, May 21, by the Contemporary Chamber Ensemble of Rutgers.

The Composer's String Quartet will perform "String Trio" by Fred Lerdahl, a string quartet by Paul Lansky, the second movement of a viola quintet by Samuel Rhodes and a string quartet by Peter Winkler.

The performing group was formed in 1965 at the suggestion of Gunther Schuller for the purpose of performing new and difficult compositions which would ordinarily have little or no opportunity to be performed.

COMPOSER HONORED

At American Music Festival. Princeton composer David Kraehenbuehl will have his new work "Diptych" performed Sunday during the 25th American Music Festival at the National Gallery of Art in Washington. The concert is the sixth and last of a series devoted to music by 33 contemporary American composers.

CARS EQUAL TROUBLE: Both Nicholas A. Procaccias (left) and Walter Williams feel that allowing University students to own cars in Princeton "would only lead to more trouble." (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: The trustees of Princeton University are considering abolishing its rule banning undergraduate driving. In your opinion, should undergraduates be allowed to keep cars in Princeton?

Where Asked: Palmer Square.

Nicholas A. Procaccias, 8 Chestnut Street, roofer: No, they'd get in trouble. If they knew how to act, but they don't . . . A couple of drinks and they'd be in real trouble. I was born and raised in this town. I know these boys.

Walter Williams, Trenton, roofer: No, I don't think they should be allowed to have them because they get in enough troubles without cars. Look what they did over the weekend.

Miss Ann Ryan, 5 Lincoln Court: They should make the school co-educational so they wouldn't feel the need for cars to get away from Princeton. It's so bad right now . . . I don't want to hurt them, I really don't think it's a good idea from the standpoint of congestion. What we really need is a good public transportation system in Princeton so people can get from one place to another.

Ted Voelker, student, Princeton Seminary: Yes, I think they should be allowed to but I don't feel Princeton could hold another 1,000 or so cars. As a principle there is nothing wrong with it. I'm at the Seminary and I own a car.

TOWN TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By their own figures, no other Princeton newspaper does half as well.

Miss Anita Tart, Merwick, licensed practical nurse: Yes, definitely. It's hard, especially when you're going out with a guy if he doesn't have a car and the girl doesn't either. There's just not much to do in Princeton.

Jaba McNamara, Witherspoon Hall, University senior: I have to go along with the Daily Princetonian. The car rule originally established in 1926 was based on emotional grounds: five fatal accidents in one year. Since then, the rationalizations the University has used to justify the car ban has not been convincing.

Robert Loewenthal, 278 Riverside Drive, Princeton High School senior: No, because it would increase the traffic problems in town which are already terrible. Plus the fact they're allowed to drink on campus which could result in even greater problems. I feel they should be allowed to own motorcycles, though.

Mrs. Jody Hook, N. Stanworth Drive, housewife: I think it would be a very bad idea. There are far too many cars on the road, not only in Princeton but everywhere. I don't believe it is any great deprivation to be without a car.

Miss Linda Widman, 206 Moore Street, PHS junior: No, I don't think so. They're here to learn — not to go places and romp around.

Wally Hickman, Little Rocky Hill, employees, Grover Lumber Co.: I don't see why not. I'm a young man myself and I know how they must feel.

Mrs. Nicholas Wahl, 82 Western Way, jeweler: Yes, I think they're old enough. They ought to be considered responsible.

Mrs. Carolyn Good, 400 Butler Avenue, secretary, Princeton University: I think the seniors ought to be allowed to own cars but I feel the others are still too immature. Another disadvantage of having the whole university driving cars would be to add to the congestion in the town. But the seniors, after all, are in their last year and I think they should be allowed some consideration in that respect.

Don Jaye, 1937 Hall, University senior: I definitely think students should have a car. Certainly, it would allow more freedom and I think it would allow a student to broaden along with the freedom of owning a car goes more responsibility. I think this helps a student gain maturity.

Mrs. Harold B. Janes, Columbus Boyscholr School, office employee: I don't feel the town is big enough to handle the extra load of student cars. We have enough troubles as it is during rush hours and getting a steady flow of traffic through town.

Richard Farnsades, Long Island, printing salesman: I'm surprised to find out they are not allowed, mainly because other colleges do. Maybe it would add to the congestion of a small town like Princeton but most college towns are small. I don't see anything wrong with students owning cars.

Miss Margaret Leivested, 86 Spruce Street, employee, Princeton University Laboratories: I think they should be allowed to own cars. I know it would be difficult for parking but I still think they should have them. As long as graduate students have them, why shouldn't they?

Jeani Scott, 32 John Street, Notre Dame High School student: They can drive, why not? They would be able to get around more. I don't think they would break any rules — not if they're smart enough to get into Princeton.

Karen McGowan, Princeton Junction, Notre Dame student: If I were one of them, I know I'd want a car. If they really and truly have to get somewhere, they need to have a car.

FAUNS, BY TIEPOLO: "Male and Female Fauns" is one of the drawings by Giovanni Battista Tiepolo now on exhibition at the Princeton Art Museum. The drawing is part of the Museum's permanent collection of Italian drawings.

ART - In Princeton

ITALIAN DRAWINGS

At Princeton Art Museum. From an exceptionally fine permanent collection of Italian Drawings belonging to the Art Museum of Princeton University, 106 examples have been chosen for a two month "Home" exhibition. The major collection has been on the road during the museum's recent transition period and has the distinction of being the first University collection ever to have an important showing at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

Its subsequent tour included the Fogg Museum of Harvard University and the Yale University Art Museum. After the Princeton stand, the collection will "rest" and then go off again in the full to be shared with the Washington University of St. Louis, the Art Institute of Chicago, the Cleveland Art Museum and finally the Vassar College Art Gallery.

This is clearly a rare group of drawings which has deserved and received wide appreciation as representative of Italian Art from the late 15th to 18th centuries. To those who are interested in the period or just the medium, there is a wealth of enjoyment in a variety of preliminary sketches, caricatures, landscapes, genre and religious scenes, characterizations and fine definitive portraiture by Italian masters.

High on the priority list for us are the G. B. Tiepolo drawings which show wonderful understanding of figures in vigorous motion and design, as well as this master's portraits, remarkable in sensitivity and nobility. (Some of the best of these and other drawings are in the Frank Jewett Mather, Jr. Collection and must be sought out in the small upstairs gallery of the southwest wing).

In the main gallery are drawings by Salvator Rosa which captured our attention with their sudden expressiveness and we were moved by the drama and pathos of Guercino's "Arrest of Christ." Design which moves in perfect rhythm is there to see in a Boscoli Frieze, and as much dignity and command as can be found in the figure drawn is exemplified by "Two Standing Female Figures" by Carpaccio. These are but a few of the rewarding experiences in an unusual display of draughtsmanship, integrity, imagination and vigor which has lasted with authority through the years.

In connection with the exhibition, Professor Felton Gibbons of the University Department of Art and Archeology will deliver a public lecture on "Princeton's Italian Drawings in Context," this Thursday evening at 8 in McCormick Hall.

YVONNE BURK

At the Nassau Club. Yvonne Burk of Princeton is showing work this month at the Nassau Club. Mrs. Burk studied at the Layton School of Art in Milwaukee, at the University of Wyoming and at the Art Students' League in New York City. In recent years we have seen some of Mrs. Burk's work in various Princeton shows but never before such a comprehensive selection of all her interests in many media. Among the exhibits here are two award pictures, "Impressions of Princeton," which won third prize at the 27th annual Metropolitan Show in Washington, D.C., and "Religious Pilgrims in Zagorsh," prize-winning woodcut in the Princeton Art Association Juried Show last month.

Mrs. Burk handles drawing in ink and brush with sensitivity; "Conversation," between two old men, really is a conversation piece. In woodcuts, she goes a step further, cutting out her figures in good strong design.

In oil painting, she feels out more complicated compositions, very complicated in her "Mory Watts' Place," which has much of the activity of the original but not as much color. In an acrylic collage of "Nassau Street," she achieves more effect of light and vitality and hits the peak in what is probably a new experiment, and a pretty successful one, a copper enamel landscape, most interesting in the color, luminosity and arrangement of its subject, "Industrial Light."

AN HEIRLOOM FOR OUR SCHOOL: Young artisans at Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart — about 50 of them — are completing work on this remarkable hooked tapestry which will hang in the hallway of the school. Their teacher and guide has been Ann Wiseman Denzer (far left). Four of the students who worked on the tapestry are (left to right) Irene Smaluchowski, Elaine Behr, Barbara Donahue and Anita Banerji.

are exhibit for May at the Present Day Club is the photography of Dorothy L. Crossley, a native Princetonian and graduate of Miss Fine's School. After receiving her AB as an art major from Smith College, Miss Crossley sidetracked her art to photography and studied at the Country School of Photography in Woodstock, Vt.

In 1953, she returned to Smith for two years as official public relations photographer. For two seasons she was publicity photographer for the Boston Arts Festival.

Since 1956 she has been, in the summertime, a free lance photographer at Wood's Hole on Cape Cod, specializing in yachting pictures, children's and family groups. Since 1960 she has, in winter, been attached to the public relations staff at the Cannon Mountain and Mittersill Ski areas in Franconia, N. H., where some of her shots have received world wide distribution through Associated Press and United Press International. Combining a facility in writing, she has had picture stories published in Travel Magazine, in skiing and yachting periodicals and newspapers.

The photographs on exhibit at the Present Day Club are involved with action, (skiing, sailing and "Hurricane Betsy"); nature (snowy landscapes and "Norwegian Nocturne"); character, (children with ice cream cones); and composition (Barnstable Dunes and a glassy sea). However different in content, all the photographs have in common a delightful clarity, a true sense of design and an understanding of subject. They are fresh and lively and quite appealing.

WORKING FROM BEHIND . . . Girls Make Tapestry. Deft young artist-craftsmen, 10 to 14 years old, have spent the winter and early spring at Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart creating a 14 foot hooked tapestry which they may call "The beginning of the beginning."

Working under the guiding eye of Mrs. Ann Wiseman Denzer, the girls began last September. First they decided on a theme — "everything in nature." Then they made brown paper patterns of owls and unicorns, inscrutable lions and free-winging birds. The finished design is a composite from 50 girls in the Middle School.

They traced their patterns onto the backing material, and then after Christmas, began to do the hooking. Materials came from home: mother's worn old red wool dress, Daddy's old grey wool slacks, a bright blue baby blanket.

About 75 pounds of wool remnants were stripped into quarter inch widths to be hooked through the backing with traditional two-handed shuttle hookers. About eight to ten girls worked on the tapestry at a time, some of them trimming in front to make a pile about one inch deep.

Bright greens and blues predominate, with touches of cardinal red and petal pink providing contrast. The tapestry will soon be removed from its work-frame, hemmed and finished, and then hung in splendor in Stuart's great front hall.

The project was Mrs. Denzer's idea. She hopes to start another, this one to be done by the children of Princeton, perhaps to hang in the new library, perhaps in the new John Witherspoon School.

GRAPHICS ON DISPLAY At University Library. The 20th National Exhibition of Prints will be on display in the Graphic Arts Gallery on the Princeton University Library until May 20. Sponsored by the Library of Congress, the exhibit includes 72 prints selected from more than 1,300 entries.

The collection is designed to show the diversity of styles used by printmakers today. On display are experimental works as well as more conventional pieces in such media as lithography, serigraphy, wood engraving, collography, intaglio and aqua tint.

Artists represented include: Joseph Albers, Herold Altman, Antonio Frasconi, Adolf Dehn, Gerson Lieber, Gabor Peterdi, June Wayne and Karl Schrag.

Also present are such artists as Omar Rayo who dispenses with color entirely by letting the pressure of the printing press shape the paper.

SOME BASIC RULES CONCERNING CARPET

YARD

In buying floor coverings, remember that the better qualities cost less over the years. Ask yourself, "How much will it cost per year rather than per square yard"

Should you buy wall-to-wall or room-size rugs? There are advantages to each, and the answer depends on the size of your room and your personal preference.

Wall-to-wall is extremely popular because it makes a room look larger, less cluttered and is easy to vacuum. However, many people prefer room-size rugs because there's no installation cost, and they don't cover all of a beautiful floor.

Room-size rugs are cut from 6, 12 and 15-foot width broadloom and may be had to any length to fit almost any room. They should be cut to fit approximately within 6 inches from the walls.

Area rugs are more popular than ever for their dramatic effect. They may be had in any shape to suit your particular needs. Of course, they should only be used when you have a very lovely hard surface flooring underneath which you want to show. Area rugs should always be cut large enough not to look skimpy.

We invite you to see our big selection of colors and textures in all types of carpet. There is no cost or obligation. We'll be happy to show you samples.

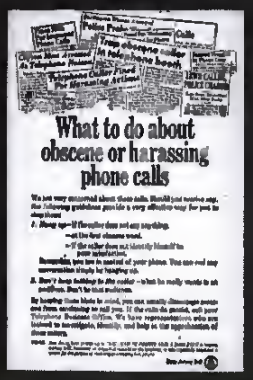
arrests



This ad first ran 19 months ago. Since then, police have made 199 arrests. There have been 152 convictions. Fines have run as high as $550.

We are very concerned about these calls. And we are glad that progress is being made.

But should you receive any such calls, the following guidelines provide a very effective way for you to stop them:

1. Hang up
   —if the caller does not say anything.
   —at the first obscene word.
   —if the caller does not identify himself to your satisfaction.

   Remember, you are in control of your phone. You can end any conversation simply by hanging up.
2. Don't keep talking to the caller—what he really wants is an audience. Don't be that audience.
3. Call us at your Telephone Business Office if the calls persist. We have representatives who are trained to investigate, identify, and help the police in the apprehension of these callers.

By keeping these hints in mind, you can usually discourage someone from continuing to call you.

OPEN WATER FOR CORNELL: Erasing a two-length deficit, Cornell won the Carnegie Cup here Saturday by more than a length. Yale finished second, Princeton (nearest the shore) was third. (TOWN TOPICS Photo by Alan Richards)

SPORTS In Princeton

TWO-TEAM RACE

In Ivy Lacrosse. A firm contender for the 1967 Ivy title after having started the season with hopes only of regaining a place in first division — Princeton's lacrosse team has two opponents and the luck of the draw as its final hurdles.

The Tigers will entertain last-place Dartmouth on Campbell Field Saturday at 2, and the following weekend must tackle defending champion Cornell at Ithaca. Defeating the league-leading Ithacans, who have won their last ten Ivy contests, on their home field with a highly-partisan crowd of several thousand cheering them on will be a rugged assignment.

Two opponents in the middle of the standings, either of whom might have upset the visiting Tigers, became Princeton's victims last week. In Philadelphia on Wednesday, coach Ferris Thomsen's steadily improving operatives whipped Penn 12 to 2, as junior midfielder Bert Keidel scored five times. It was 6-0 at the half and no contest the victors outshooting the Red and Blue, 43 to 20.

In a rainy, mud-spattered setting that was reminiscent of the football game between Princeton and Yale in the Bowl last November, the lacrosse team conquered Yale on the same turf Saturday, 7 to 4. Bob Porter, a junior midfielder produced three of the goals — two of them in the final period after the Elis had shaved their halftime 4-2 deficit to 5-4.

Dick Groham, senior attack man, scored twice, the Tigers moved out to a 3-2 lead and kept control of the game by blanking the Elis in both the second and fourth periods. Dick Reynolds continued his take charge play in the goal and his average of four goals allowed per game is tops among the Ivies.

BASEBALL, TENNIS HERE

This Weekend. Matches against Brown at 4 on Friday on the University Courts and Cornell the following afternoon at 2 are on the schedule for the tennis team, which remained unbeaten in the Eastern Association after a whistle-producing upset of Pennsylvania.

Hoping merely that "we can give a respectable account of ourselves," John Conroy sent his racket squad against heavily-favored Penn last week and came away from the joust ing with a pretty good story to tell. In recording a 6½ to 2½ victory, his players lost only one set in the four singles and two double matches they won.

Princeton and Yale began the current week as the only two unbeaten teams in the standings. Dartmouth, which Princeton faces a week from Saturday at Hanover, has lost only once, as has Penn, which has yet to meet Yale. Saturday's rain forced numerous postponements, and with most members of the ten-team association heading for examinations the re-scheduling process will be unusually difficult.

Ball Team to be Busy. Six games in 11 days confronted Princeton's baseball team this week after last Saturday's contest with Yale at New Haven was washed out. Four of the games were Eastern League dates, a situation bound to create more problems for the overworked pitching staff.

Following Tuesday's contest with Rutgers, the Tigers boarded a bus and began the first leg of a trip to Hanover for a Wednesday game with a hard hitting Dartmouth nine. The Indians had an 18-inning shutout streak going against Princeton, having won the last two outings by identical scores of 2-0.

Brown will be on Clarke Field Saturday at 2, Tuesday will find the team on the road to Annapolis to face Navy, with a trip to Cornell set for Friday. Next Saturday, it will be Manhattan here.

Expectations are that the game with Yale will not be rescheduled, as both teams head into examination periods. Where once three games a year between the Big Three rivals were played, this spring there will be none. So much for tradition.

The Tigers split last week, winning predictably over Fordham (4 to on the season and losing predictably to St. John's (13-3 this spring). Sophomore Mike Fremuth was a 6-2 victor in the Fordham game on a basis of 4 2/3 innings of effective relief; junior Bob Sobditch lost to St. John's, 6 to 2, as his mates again made more errors (3) than they did hits (2).

TIGERS FINISH THIRD

In Carnegie Cup Race. It might be better for Princeton's crew if its schedule could be rearranged so that it did not open its season with Rutgers and Navy. Each year for the last four the Tigers have topped these two opponents — in fact, the string over Navy is now six — and each year hopes run high for additional triumphs.

Two years ago, the Orange and Black did win the Childs Cup from Penn and Columbia, but it hasn't won the Compton Cup from Harvard and M.I.T. in over a decade and last week it trailed in Carnegie Cup competition for the 16th straight year.

The victor in bone-chilling temperature on Lake Carnegie was Cornell, somewhat expected, although the Ithacans were last in the early going. Princeton was first for a while but lost its slim margin to Yale which, in turn, yielded to an impressive boatload from Ithaca.

Despite the fact that it trailed for nearly two lengths at the half-way mark of the mile and three-quarters race, Cornell won by understroking its opponents. The victors' margin at the finish was a full length; Yale led the Tigers by three feet and a fifth of a second.

Of the day's races, Princeton won the first two, taking the second freshman and freshman events — the latter by a good two and a half lengths over Cornell. Yale was the victor in the jayvee race by the same margin. Possibly the biggest losers of the chill, damp afternoon were the low hundred spectators: because of an equipment failure in the Yale varsity shell, the Cup race was almost a half hour late in starting.

The Eastern Sprint Championships are on tap this weekend on Worcester's Lake Quinsigammond. Harvard's great crew, one of the finest collegiate units in any sport in many years, is the odds on favorite over the 2,000-meter distance.

Of the six Princeton entries (freshman, jayvee and varsity shells in both the 150-lb and heavyweight races), the varsity lightweights and the freshman heavies figure to make the best showing. Both, however, have lost to Harvard, where as unusual a dynasty as the sport has known is steadily abuilding.

CARRIL NAMED COACH

Succeeds van Breda Kolff. The coaching selection that virtually everyone close to the scene had anticipated was announced last weekend by Princeton University when Pete Carril of Lehigh was named to succeed Bill van Breda Kolff in basketball.

Carril captained van Breda Kolff's first team at Lafayette and it was widely known that Butch had recommended him highly for the position here as soon as he had confirmed his own decision to coach the Los Angeles Lakers. In fact, so sure were athletic officials at Lehigh that they were about to lose a coach that they mailed an envelope of pictures of Carril to Bill Stryker, Director of Sports Information here, while reports of van Breda Kolff's resignation were still in the speculative stage. "We thought you would be needing these," the note said.

Carril, 36, comes here with only one season of college coaching on his record, but one which does him considerable credit. When he took over at Lehigh last fall, he inherited a sport that had not topped the .500 mark in a decade and, a year earlier, had won four of 21 games. Under his guidance, Lehigh posted an 11-12 mark, defeated its traditional rival, Lafayette, twice and nearly derailed NIT-bound Rutgers with a 45-43 upset of the Scarlet.

Carril began his coaching career at the high school in Easton, Pa., and then moved to Reading High, where Gary Walters was one of his protegee. His teams took the Central Pennsylvania Conference title twice and in seven seasons, he won 145 and lost 42 for a .775 average.

As a player under van Breda Kolff at Lafayette, Carril was a standout in the back court and earned Little All-America rating. He stands 5-7, is married and has two children.

At Princeton, he'll have to run awfully hard to keep even with him are his predecessor, Bill van Breda Kolff; Art Hyland, assistant coach; and Captain-elect Joe Heiser. (Alan Richards Photo)

Van Breda Kolff piloted the Tigers to a 25-3 mark last season, number one rating in the east and fifth in the nation. In his five years here (three of them with Bill Bradley on his team), he won four Ivy championships and achieved one third-place finish in the NCAA Tournament.

EARLY START PLANNED

For Midget League Weigh-In. The Princeton Midget Football League will hold its official registration and weigh-in at the Valley Road School Gymnasium on Saturday, May 20, from 8 to 11 and on Sunday, May 21, from 2 to 4. Boys who participated last year, either on a uniformed team or in the non-contact Football School, must sign up again and be weighted.

Early weigh-ins and registration will permit league officials to set up weight restrictions, assess the need for new teams and get additional equipment over the summer. Team members will not be reassigned to last year's teams unless they register this spring.

All boys attending school in Princeton who will be 8 by December 31 and under 14 at the same date, will be eligible for Midget League action. The boys will not be sub-divided within this general group until after the official registration and weight-ins.

Former Princeton University football captain Jack Sapoch has replaced Cosmo Iacavazzi as commissioner of the football league. League president Sandy Reynolds announced that Iacavazzi, former All-American at Princeton and commissioner of the Midget League since its founding two years ago, would be leaving Princeton after he received his engineering master's degree in June.

Sapoch will supervise the notification of all applicants of their status over the summer. He will also direct the division of applicants among as many uniformed teams as possible and, for those who are too light for a uniformed team or too young, a non-contact Football School.

HORSE SHOW SATURDAY

Rain or Shine. Saturday is the date for the eleventh annual Horse Show and Fair, sponsored by St. Mary's Hall — Doane Academy. The event, held from 5:30 until 5 at the 112th Artillery Grounds on the Eggerts Crossing Road in Trenton, will benefit the school's scholarship fund.

Some 20 events are scheduled in such areas as children's horsemanship, hunter horsemanship, pairs, open jumper and working hunter stake classes. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded to the riders winning any of the myriad competitions.

Adequate parking facilities are available as well as ringside parking for those who want to observe from behind their steering wheels. There will be games for everyone at various fair booths and a pony ride for small children.

WATER SHOW PLANNED

For YWCA Pool. The YWCA is sponsoring a Water Show Friday, May 19, at 5:30 in the YWCA pool. The program will feature synchronized swimming by a "Y" group that has been practicing under the guidance of Mrs. Mary Bartha.

There will be diving exhibitions by "Y" and AAU champions. Also offered will be competitive swimming exhibitions and clown acts.

LAWRENCE SHUTOUT, 7-0

As Wood Hurls Three-Hitter. Princeton High School's Tom Wood limited visiting Lawrence to three hits Friday and struck out ten to lead his team to a 7-0 victory. The win was Wood's second in five starts and the team's third in nine.

Wood's teammates backed him up with an 11-hit barrage that produced three runs each in the fifth and sixth innings. Jay Springer, Rich Voltz and Tim Haigh all had two hits apiece while Tommy Yoder cracked the game's only extra base blow, a double.

Before the Lawrence game, the Little Tigers had enjoyed a nine-day rest. "We're ready to start our second-half surge," said coach Harry Zoll, referring to a pattern his teams have followed the past two seasons: poor starts, winning second halves.

Any surge will be at the expense of Franklin. In one of those scheduling quirks, PHS will entertain Franklin on Friday at 4, then travel for a return game to Franklin on Monday. It will be at Notre Dame on Tuesday.

The Little Tigers staked Wood to a one run lead in the second. After two were down, Wood, Bill Walstad and Dave Drake singled.

Things quieted down until the fifth when Yoder opened with a double. On the play, credit him with heads-up running.

Logan Steals Third. Haigh walked, Voltz singled to load them up and Fischer's fielder's choice drove home Yoder. Zoll sent Hal Logan in to run for Fischer. After Springer's single scored Haigh, Logan stole third and rode home on Tom Butterfoss's sacrifice.

The home team picked up three more insurance runs in the next inning on a three-run throwing error by the Cardinal's pitcher. "It's nice to see somebody else do it for a change," quipped Zoll.

Zoll also welcomed the return to form of Wood. "Woody pitched a good game today," he said. "He really moved the ball around."

Those eleven hits helped to fatten some batting averages adding three more players above .300. Jay Springer leads with a .391 followed by Voltz, .333; Yoder, .321; Fischer, .318; Haigh, .306, and Walstad, .300.

STICKMEN BOW AGAIN

To Montclair. Seven days after it had defeated the Princeton High School lacrosse team, 8-0, Montclair last Wednesday repeated its mastery over the Blue and White. The margin was the same but this time PHS scored one goal before losing, 8-1.

And so the season stretches longer and longer for the winless (0-8) Little Tigers. They will try again Saturday at Hanover Park, which already owns a 8-1 victory over them. PDS will be the opponent on Monday for a 4 p.m. contest and on Wednesday Peddie will entertain PHS. After that, only two more contests remain.

Paul Rice, switched from midfield to attack, scored Princeton's lone goal against Montclair. Coach Bob Arbegast reported that he was trying freshman Rich Oberman in the goal. He replaces sophomore Peter McCrohan who had a try at it. McCrohan took over for Mark Hoffman, who took over for Dean Sutton . . . "We're still trying different things," said Arbegast.

GERMANTOWN NIPS HUN

In Last Inning, 4-3. A last-inning uprising that carried Germantown Friends to a 4-3 victory over visiting Hun Friday left the Red and Black with a 4-2 record in the Penn-Jersey League. As a result, Hun is now back in the pack of contenders.

Saturday, Hun will travel to Hightstown for a non-league encounter with Peddie. It will resume league action Wednesday at Perkiomen and then finish its season with games at Bryn Athyn and Pennington.

For all but the last inning, Hun starter Hiroshi Ueda nursed a 3-1 lead over Germantown. Then Hun fell victim to a "bizarre series of events," according to Hun coach Sandy Bing.

A broken bat dribbler allowed the tying run to score when Keri Harter, Ueda's successor, slipped coming off the mound trying to field the ball. The next Quaker batter singled home another run and that was it.

"We really played a good game," said Bing. "It was just one of those things. We had a lot of chances to score but we just didn't get the big hit." All of Hun's blows were singles.

HUN SPLITS

In Lacrosse. The Hun School defeated Rutgers Prep, 11-2, Friday to increase its won-lost record in lacrosse to 5-2-1. Earlier it was beaten by Fairleigh Dickinson, 7-5.

Tom Petty, Chip Hosford, Mark Levine and John Keefe each tallied twice for the Johnny Huns, and Bill George, Hoit Murray and Bob Crimi scored single goals.

Hosford and Petty accounted for all of Hun's scoring against Fairleigh Dickinson. Goalie Gene Rubin was credited with 17 saves.

TRENTON BLANKED

By PHS Tennis Team. Recording its first shutout of the season, the visiting Princeton High School tennis team defeated Trenton Friday, 5-0. Coach Bill Humes' Little Tigers are now 5-2.

Captain Henry Sommers, Ted Fritsch and Bill Liederman won their singles matches, with Sommers' match the only one going beyond two sets. A freshman, Liederman was making his first appearance this season in a singles battle.

The number one doubles team of Bill Carroll and Ted Ford won in straight sets, as did John Penzer and Scott Raeum.

Coming up will be three home matches, starting with St. Anthony on Thursday to be followed with Peddie on Monday and Ewing on Tuesday. The Peddie match had been originally scheduled for this past Monday.

LAWRENCE TUESDAY

For PHS Trackmen. Coach Jerry Groninger's PHS track team will engage in back-to-back duel meets next week.

Monday it will be at Somerville and on Tuesday it will oppose Lawrence High School for the first time. The Cardinals will come to Harris Field for a 4 p.m. meet.

The Little Tigers extremely strong in some field events but weaker in the running events, have lost three so far this season. Friday's meeting with Pennington, which PHS dominated, was regarded as a jayvee meet.

TEN SWIMMERS PLACE

In Last AAU Meet. In the last AAU meet of the winter season—the Garden State Swim Club Freestyle Festival in Berkeley Heights — ten Princeton swimmers won trophies or medals. Taking top honor was Bob Meusel who won the 100 yard freestyle race for boys 15 to 17.

Jane Fremon placed second in the girls' 100 yard freestyle, 13-14 age-group. Both are freshmen at Princeton High School and both competed in the YMCA National Swimming Meets during April with Jane taking a second place and Bob a 10th place.

The boys' step-up relay of Andy Bolster, Chuck Hector, Winston White and Bob Meusel won a second place trophy. The event is a relay race of teams with one competitor from each of four age-groups: 10 and under, 11 and 12, 13 and 14, and open.

The girls' step-up relay placed fourth. Members of the team were Dede Henneman, Carrie Bolster, Peggy Jobey and Jane Fremon.

Andy Bolster took a third place trophy in the 50-yard freestyle, 10 and under age group. In addition to swimming on the boys' step-up relay team, With a time of 55.6 in the 100-yard freestyle for boys 15 to 17, Denny Golden returned from the meet with a fifth place medal.

On a judges' decision in the 50-yard freestyle for girls 11 and 12, Martha Lasley tied for sixth placed and Carrie Bolster took seventh place. Winston White also placed seventh in the boys' 13-14 age group freestyle event.

THORNE'S WINS TWO

As Little League Starts. The only team to win twice last week, the Thorne Pharmacy began a strong defense of its title as play started in the West Windsor Little League. The losers were Edinburg Hotel, 11 to 6, and Craft Cleaners, 6-4.

The winning pitchers were Denny Clark and Gary Fowler. John Cross and Jack Robbins led the attack for Thorne's, while shortstop Mark Dalton was a standout in the field.

Ellsworth A. C. got by Edinburg Hotel, 2 to 1, John Fuschini and Mark Ellsworth producing back-to-back hits in the final inning to break up the game. In other action, Ellsworth A. C. and the West Windsor Lions tied 3-3, with John Fuschini hurling well in relief and Taylor Toussaint pitching a sound game for the Lions.

Craft Cleaners and First National Bank also played to a deadlock, this one 9-9. With Kevin Tylus striking out 18, the Bank nine did not record a single putout at first base.

Craft, paced by Rich Probasco and Larry Martz at the plate, scored its runs, all unearned, in the fifth. The bankers were led by Charlie Brezynski, Tim Moran, Grover Servis and Tylus. Servis and Tylus both made two hits, Tylus getting credit for three RBIs.

In the other scheduled contest, the Lions and the Bank were rained out. The postponement will be played later.

PDS NINE LOSES, 7-4

Sat Tops Has Jayvees, 7-0. Both teams collected eight hits but Morristown Prep wound up with seven runs to Princeton Day School's four in Friday's meeting here between the two. The loss was the teams' third against two victories.

The Blue and White scored its first run in the third inning on Dick Rose's single and John Claghorn's double. In the fifth Claghorn's second double, singles by Frank Andrews and Richard Rainee and a combination of errors, stolen bases and passed balls accounted for three more runs.

In all, PDS stole 18 bases against Morristown (the winners pilfered six) but committed five errors to three for the victors. PDS batters fanned 12 times, four more than were retired the same way for Morristown.

Batting averages compiled by team manager Gil Farr after five games show Bill Rigot leading with .363. Craig Paige is at .312 and Thomas Spain, .305. Others: Raines, .285; Andrews, .265 and Claghorn and Erik Heggen, both .250.

Claghorn Hurls 1-Hitter. With pitcher John Claghorn limiting the Hun School jayvees to a first-inning single, PDS blanked the Red and Black earlier last week, 7-0. He struck out 12.

PDS scored four runs in the third on a double by Rose, singles by Page, Rigot and Spain, three stolen bases and a two-run error by the Hun shortstop. In the fifth, it tallied three more, Spain's two-run single being the big blow.

Coach Wes McCaughan had his squad running in this contest, too, as PDS stole no fewer than 17 bases. Hun runners swiped six.

BOWLING NOTES

Colonial Wins Crown. For the third consecutive year, Colonial Restaurant has won the championship of the Three-Man Classic League. It finished in front of Procaccini Contractor, 69-62½, with Decker's Dairy third. Decker's had 57 points.

Colonial rolled two matches last week in order to finish a week earlier. In the second match, Colonial's Mike Baelle rolled the second highest game of the season, a 279, in posting a 109 279 159—627 series.

Bill Covell, Fred Procaccini and Bill Panelli of Procaccini Contractors combined for the three man high for the year—1856. Covell rolled 192-233-214—639, Procaccini, 169-206-203—605, and Panelli, 218-181-213—612. Frank Maddalon has a 240.

Two rolled their first 600 series in the Nassau League. Rich Penelli had 201-197-222—620 and Rudy Schutz nearly missed the level again when he rolled a 160 on his second game. However, he finished with 211-188-202 for a 601. George Pierro also claimed his high three games of the year a 203-181-203—587.

Bob Cifelli had 221-173-208—602 and Flavio Buono, 221-214. Singles, Val Ranallo's 214 and 212s by Al Kren and Ed Duncan Sr.

Tiger Garage saw its six point lead chopped to two by Cifelli Electric, which trails 70-68. Princeton Aviation (66) and Grover Lumber (60) follow.

Balestrieri won the second half of play in the 6 League and will now meet Princeton Del, first-half winners, in a rolloff for the championship. Balestrieri edged Nassau Del, 75-73. Princeton Del was third with 64.

There were 23 games rolled over the 200 mark and Frank Deineso had three of them—206-211-206 for a 622 series.

Thinking of Investing?

The man who wants to accumulate capital has many choices of where to put his money. What about a Manufacturers Life policy—what does it offer him? Here are a few facts:

- A permanent insurance policy from Manufacturers Life combines immediate protection with a living benefit—a cash value that grows rapidly through compound interest at guaranteed rates.
- This cash value is liquid; you can redeem it in cash at any time. It's the best loan collateral you can have. "Do you own any life insurance?", is one of the first questions your bank manager will ask.
- You leave your money management with the Manufacturers Life experts and you avoid the worries and uncertainties of the stock market.
- If the policy is participating, annual dividends are a factor. Manufacturers Life's success in money management is reflected in the company's excellent record of ten increases in the dividend scale in the last twelve years.

The Manufacturers Life representative in your community would welcome the opportunity to tell you more.

RACES PLANED HERE

For Flying Tern Regatta. The Eastern Seaboard Flying Tern Regatta will be held Saturday at Carnegie Lake. There will be two races around a triangular course in the morning starting at 10 and two more in the afternoon, starting at 2.

Eight boats from the Princeton area are expected to enter and about a dozen more from surrounding states.

The Flying Tern is a Dutch-built, sloop-rigged, 14-foot boat made of fibreglas. There are about 500 in the United States and 3,000 in Europe.

All of the Terns are cast from the same mold, according to Bob Wilson of the Carnegie Sailing Club. "This puts an emphasis on seamanship rather than boat construction," he said. The Tern has a crew of two.

The following Saturday, May 20, the 6th Annual GP 14 Regatta will be held on the lake.

Again, there will be races at 10 and at 2 in the afternoon. Some 30 boats are expected to enter — about five from the Princeton area.

The GP 14 is a British designed, British built, 14 footer with a crew of two. It carries a jib and mainsail and a spinnaker, a large triangular sail which billows out in front of the boat.

SOFTBALL STARTS

In Expanded League. Play began last week in the Princeton Business Softball League, which has been expanded to 17 teams for the 1967 season. As has been the case in the past, eastern and western divisions will compete.

One of the first games of the season set a record when FMC defeated McGraw-Hill, 32 to 4, the highest total ever scored since the league has been in operation. Contrary to the norm, hitters were generally ahead of the pitchers during opening week.

RCA Labs A was the winner in a high-scoring game, outslugging ETS, 16 to 13. Max Hopkins had three for four, as did Wally Reichert and Jud Kodner, each of the latter getting two RBI's. Max Hopkins was the winning pitcher.

RCA B thumped EMR, 20 to 5, Joe Wlacek and George Rosso contributing grand slams. Bruce Block, Ron Sofinder, Ted Laks and Tony Marciano steered the losers to a big third inning, but it proved insufficient.

Accelerator, behind winning pitcher Jack Bartow, trounced Opinion Research, 10 to 4. Jerry Sheridan homered and Harold Connor went three for four.

American Cyanamid topped Shell, 9 to 8, rallying in the final inning for four runs and the victory. Bob Bosley was three for four for Cyanamid, while the winners were also aided by two spectacular left field catches by Spence Carter.

In other games, RCA Astro defeated ERC, 12-3; Hopewell Television outlasted the Telephone Workers, 11-10; and Columbian Carbon hammered out an 19-3 triumph over National Computer Analysts.

LACROSSE TEAM IN TIE

With Rutgers, 5-5. Behind, 2-0, in the early going, Princeton's lacrosse team battled back to gain a 4-all tie with Rutgers Tuesday at the end of regulation time.

The visiting Scarlet again took the lead at 5-4 in the first overtime session, but in the second additional five minute period, Dick Graham tallied to create the final deadlock. It was Graham's goal in the fourth quarter that had sent the game into overtime.

BALL TEAM BLANKED

By Rutgers, 1 to 2. A walk to the leadoff batter in the first inning proved costly to Princeton's baseball team Tuesday, the Scarlet converting the opportunity into the only tally of the game. The 1-0 loss was the second to Rutgers this season.

Steve Cushmore pitched well for the Tigers, allowing only three more hits and four walks but his mates never could bring him even. Errorless support — a Princeton rarity — was Cushmore's, too, but it only served to keep the margin between the two teams at a minimum.

Princeton's best chance to score came in the second when Graham Marcoit, a converted pitcher who has been hitting well as an outfielder, doubled deep down the left foul line. A wild pitch advanced him to third but no one could bring him home.

TENNIS TEAM LOSES

Upset by Yale, 6-3. Saturday's rained out tennis match with Yale brought defeat Tuesday when it was rescheduled at New Haven. Princeton suffered a 6-3 loss, its first in Eastern Association play, and the best it can hope for is a tie for the title.

Four of the singles, including the first two matches, went the Elis' way and when they added the first doubles match in straight sets, it was all over. Lee Buck, the Tigers no. one man, was beaten, 10-8, 9-8, several double faults contributing to his problems.

COMING IN OCTOBER

Indoor Tennis Center. A new indoor tennis center located on Mercer County Airport property will be open to the public on October 1. Entrance will lie off Beer Tavern Road near the I-95 interchange.

The indoor center will have six regulation composition courts under one roof, which will make it one of the largest such indoor centers in the country. They are housed in a building that was never fully completed by Kaiser Industries. Kaiser donated the building to Mercer County.

The sum of $225,000 was appropriated by the Board of Freeholders to cover renovation and construction costs. Included in the center are lockers and shower rooms, an office and pro shop, plus a spectator area.

Freeholder Richard J. Coffee, President of the Mercer County Park Commission, said the commission was working with a sub-committee of the Mercer County Citizens' Tennis Advisory Committee to establish rates and fees for the indoor courts. "Hopefully we shall be in a position to accept applications and reservations for use of the facility early in June," he said.

News Of The CHURCHES

DR. ADAMS NAMED DEAN Of Princeton Seminary. The Rev. Dr. Arthur M. Adams, a member of the Princeton Theological Seminary faculty since 1962, was appointed dean of the Seminary last week by the trustees. He takes over in September the post left vacant a year ago when the Rev. Dr. Elmar G. Homrighausen reached 65, the mandatory age of retirement from administrative duties.

Dr. Adams, currently dean of field education and professor of practical theology, was minister of the Central Presbyterian Church of Rochester, N. Y., from 1954 to 1962 and spent a total of 28 years as a pastor. A trustee of the Seminary for seven years before his election as professor, he was a member of the executive committee of the Presbyterian Council on Theological Education for a number of years. He served on the Consolidation Committee during the merger of the United Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church in the U S A

He is a director of the Presbyterian Ministers' Fund (oldest chartered life insurance company in America), a trustee of the Rutgers Westminster Foundation, a member of the New Jersey Synod committee on pastoral counseling, chairman of national missions for the New Brunswick Presbytery and is a member of the General Assembly's Committee on Regional Synods and Church Administration.

During his pastorate in Rochester, Dr. Adams was for more than 18 years preacher on the Central Church of the Air, the city's oldest religious radio program. He served as president of the Council of Churches and was a County Commissioner of Human Relations. His church originated the city's religious arts festival, drawing entries from every state and many foreign countries in painting, graphic arts, sculpture, photography, music, poetry and drama. During his ministry the church pioneered in migrant work, a store front mission, work for underprivileged children and church school classes for retarded children.

A native of Philadelphia, Dr. Adams was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania and Princeton Seminary. His son the Rev. Robert M. Adams is a minister and his daughter is the wife of the Rev. H. Oanu Fearon III, pastor of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church.

At the Seminary he has been responsible for field education policy and work with a staff to place students in weekend and summer positions. A feature of this work is the Princeton Seminary Urban Project which annually sends more than 45 students to inner city churches. He has been involved in the development of an extensive educational program for ministers and conducts seminars at the Seminary's Center of Continuing Education on administration and preaching. He is the author of "Pastoral Administration" published in 1964 by Westminster Press and selection of the Religious book Club in April 1965.

TO THE PRINCETON COMMUNITY

The Facts Regarding The Current Strike By The Carpenters

During the past 9 years the Union wages for Carpenters have increased on average of 4.8% per year, and are currently $5.35 per hour including fringe benefits or $214.00 for a 40-hour week. This schedule of increments has maintained a reasonably sound market in commercial and institutional work; although virtually all residential work has been lost to the Open Shop segment of the construction industry.

This year we were presented with demands for an increase in wage rate and fringe benefits of 26%, together with changes in working rules which add substantially to the cost of the end product by instituting featherbedding practices, and which benefit relatively few members of the Union. The proposed changes also incorporated increases which are largely indeterminate by industry standards.

During the several meetings between the negotiating committees for the respective organizations, we presented an initial offer of an increase of 5%; this was refused by the Union Committee and after considering informal compromises the Committee for the Association made a final offer of 9 1/2% contingent upon elimination of any inflationary changes in working rules and no work stoppage. This offer was rejected by the Union Membership on May 1, 1967. All Association projects have been struck by the Carpenters, and supervisory employees have been removed from a number of projects.

We regret the inconvenience to owners having current projects under construction, as well as the costs being sustained by our members and the loss of income to families of the members of the local Union. However, resistance to acceptance of the extravagant demands seems to be the only recourse in a National political climate which deplores inflation on one hand and encourages Union excesses on the other.

When Johnny came marching home...

We helped him buy it.

As a matter of fact, since we were established 50 years ago in 1917, we have helped thousands of Johnnies to buy their own homes. That's what it's all about at Princeton Savings. Local people save their dollars and earn the area's top dividends and local people borrow these dollars to buy or improve their homes. It's called "Round Robin Capitalism" and it works for Princeton and for you.

The GREATEST . . . BEST . . . FASTEST . . . How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service . . we admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adequate . . it's only GOOD.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

Do us a service . . call 921-8500 today so that we may serve you!
